The Russians have reached the Posiecz-Lesivka-Kosmacz line. In the fighting between Sunday and Tuesday in the direction of Dolina the Russians took more than ten thousand prisoners and eighty guns.

Copenhagen, July 11.—Count von Bernstorff, former German ambassador at Washington, is mentioned in the lobby of the reichstag as a candidate to succeed Foreign Secretary Zimmermann in case of his retirement. The name of Dr. W. S. Zolf, colonial secretary, is also mentioned.

THE CRISIS IN GERMANY.

Copenhagen, July 11.—The debate in the reichstag committee yesterday, according to reports received here was opened by Dr. Gustav Stresemann, national liberal, with a sharp attack on Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg's policy, particularly that of foreign affairs, which he characterizes as being based on no definite consistent program.

The chancellor retorted by saying he was forced to look to all sides for support because the reichstag offered him no stable majority. Give him this and he would be able to develop a consistent program, he said.

The Vossische Zeitung adds that the chancellor expressed readiness and willingness to carry through internal reforms. Herr David, socialist, painted a picture of the difficult internal situation in Germany. He declared the existing dualism between the government and the people must cease. Hereafter the chancellor again briefly spoke Boise, Idaho, July 11.—That a reign of terror exists today in northern Idaho and that 2,000 troops are needed to curb the activities of the Industrial Workers of the World, is the report made to Secretary of War Baker, by the state council of defense, according to former Governor Frank R. Gooding, member of the council.

"Industrial Workers of the World are spreading all over the state," said the former governor, "and it is time for all sections of Idaho, both north and south, to form citizen bodies for the protection of their life and property."

Two thousand troops are needed today in northern Idaho to cope with the gigantic fight being put up by the I. W. W. to prevent the United States from getting two billion feet of lumber, necessary to carry on its war program.

WARNS CANNERS TO KEEP PRICES WITHIN REASON

Washington, D. C., July 11.—Canners of the country are asked to reduce prices to as low a level as possible in a letter sent them by Herbert C. Hoover today in which he warns that the output of the home canners, swelled to unusual proportions by reason of the back yard gardening campaigns, may prove a serious embarrassment to the manufacturers in disposing of this year's product.

"There will be no difficulties in securing markets for the staple and heavy selling lines, providing prices are low," said Mr. Hoover, "but if canners and jobbers persist in asking high prices, they will find retailers carrying these high cost goods on their shelves for succeeding years and a depressed market for canned products."

Los Angeles, Cal., July 11.—Mail bags said to contain more than 10,000 registration cards for the selective draft, which were sent from here Friday night, directed to the officers of Adjutant General J. J. Boree, in Sacramento, had not arrived today, according to the county registrar of voters. The cards should have arrived in Sacramento last Saturday. Today's mail bags are being opened.

Chicago, July 11.—Directors of the National Association of Retail Clothiers meeting last night adopted resolutions favoring retention of present styles for men for the 1918 season and making a plea for non-inflation of prices of clothing for the coming year.

The resolutions declare that dealers are now carrying a supply of men's clothing above normal, and that a radical change in styles would be detrimental to them. The directors pledge themselves to hold prices to the lowest profit possible.

The American Red Cross units on the Italian front depend on an American commissioner in Rome, who represents the Paris headquarters.

RINGS WITH HERO'S NAME

All Russia Sounds Praise of General Korniloff, Victor in Galicia.

IS THE ADMIRABLE CRIGHTON OF SLAVS

Romantic Rise from Cabin Home of Poverty to a Brilliant Name.

Petrograd, July 11.—Russia is ringing with the name of the latest hero of the war, Lieutenant General L. G. Korniloff, victor of Galicia, whose astonishing feat first proved that the new advance is no more flash in the pan. General Korniloff is the most daring, chivalrous and scholarly officer in the army.

For a romantic rise from humble origin Russian history has only one parallel—that is Michel Vassilievitch Lomonosoff, fisherman's son, poet, philosopher, creator of the modern Russian language, in the first half of the sixteenth century.

From Log Cabin to High Command. From log cabin to general is the literal text of the chronicle of General Korniloff's career. Born forty-six years ago, son of a need-stricken Karalinsk Cossack in western Siberia, who later reared a large family on a plantation gained as the village clerk, young Korniloff early began rough forest work. At the age of nine he received his first instruction.

When barely 13, he, by his own exertions and all-night studies qualified to enter the Siberian cadet corps, largely composed of sons of local magnates. Thanks again to his own efforts, this indomitable Siberian pioneer character gained free training at the Michailovsk artillery school, where his amazing mathematical faculties brought approval from the authorities.

COLONEL GREEN AND BRIDE WILL CRUISE IN YACHT

New York, July 11.—The steam yacht United States, owned by Col. Edward H. R. Green, who was married in Chicago yesterday to Miss Mabel E. Harlow, was moored in the Hudson river today to wait, it was said, the arrival of the owner and his bride, who are expected to spend their honeymoon on a cruise to the West Indies and the Panama canal. Although members of the crew said they expected to make a peaceful cruise into southern waters, the yacht was patrolled by war gray and mounted on deck was a gun.

MIGHTY DUEL OF ARTILLERY FOR BELGIAN GAINS

Germans Seriously Breach British Lines in Belgium and Move to Yser Near the Sea.

TEUTONS ADVANCE ON NEAR MILE FRONT

London, July 11.—One of the heaviest big gun duels of the war raged yesterday on the Belgian coast. Sounds of the distant firing were heard in London from 6 o'clock in the morning until nearly midnight and again today, beginning at dawn. In some London suburbs tremors like a slight earthquake could be felt.

GERMANS TAKE PRISONERS.

Berlin, July 11, via London.—More than 1,250 prisoners have been taken by the German marine corps in the Yser district of Belgium, army headquarters announced today.

BRITISH LINE PIERCED.

London, July 11.—The enemy penetrated British positions in Belgium on a front of 1,400 yards to a depth of 600 yards, says a statement issued by the British war office today.

In their advance the Germans reached the right bank of the Yser near the sea.

The attack followed a twenty-four hour bombardment in which the defense in the dunes sector near the coast were leveled.

The sector was isolated by destruction of bridges over the Yser.

The announcement follows:

"After a very intense bombardment lasting 24 hours the enemy made a determined attack on our positions on the Neuport front yesterday at 7:45 p. m. Owing to the concentrated and heavy nature of the enemy's artillery the defense in our sector near the coast were leveled and this sector was isolated by the destruction of bridges across the river Yser. The enemy succeeded in penetrating our positions here on a front of 1,400 yards and to a depth of 600 yards, thus reaching the right bank of the river Yser near the sea."

"Further south, opposite Lombaertzyde, after gaining temporarily some of our advanced positions, the enemy was driven back to his own lines by a counter attack."

GERMAN ATTACK FAILS.

M. Douglas, of State Defense League, Speaks at Garrett.

[Special to The Sentinel.] Garrett, Ind., July 11.—M. Douglas, of the Indiana state defense league, delivered an address to the farmers of this locality Tuesday afternoon in the assembly room of the city hall. He dwelt especially on the stock food subject and warned the farmers against buying any preparation of the agents that are traveling through the country at present, as many of these foods have been found to contain hog cholera germs. Court plaster, which is being sold by agents also, has been found to contain leprosy germs and lecturers are going all over the country warning people against buying any of these things. Mr. Douglas is a Purdue university man and a successful farmer.

Owen Grubb, whose death occurred at Richmond, Ind., July 7, was brought to this city yesterday for funeral and burial. The services were held at the Mount Pleasant church and interment was made at the adjoining cemetery. Death was due to psychoses.

The first number of the community lecture course was given Tuesday afternoon to a good-sized and appreciative audience. The Wilbur Starr Concert company were the first attraction. Dr. Miles delivered an excellent lecture Tuesday evening. The junior chautauqua opened this morning and the tickets are being disposed of rapidly. ## WILL GIVE $1,000 MORE

City Council Will Appropriate Additional Fund for Food Drive.

1,157 VACANT LOTS UNDER CULTIVATION

South Wayne Avenue Car Line May Be Extended to Rudisill Boulevard.

Another $1,000 is to be spent on the culture of Fort Wayne food relief gardens. The city council is expected to act on the matter at its next meeting. The resolution asking the appropriation was referred to the finance committee of the council at the Tuesday night meeting.

Frank Hilgemann, head of the Fort Wayne food raising effort, made a brief address before the city body. He explained that at least 1,157 vacant lots are under cultivation in the city and 163 acre tracts. From the first $1,000 donated by the city through the council, 486 lots and 112 acre tracts were plowed by the city teamsters. The second $1,000 is needed at once, Hilgemann appealed. The food relief organization is now $10 in debt. Money formerly appropriated has been used for buying farming implements, paying plowmen and other food relief workers. Mr. Hilgemann is anxious that the work be carried on this fall and that plowing be made for next spring.

There is no doubt but what the second $1,000 will be given as soon as possible for the food gardens. Action was not taken Tuesday evening because proper course had not been taken in securing approval of City Controller Baade before the meeting.

Decide for Sidewalks. Sidewalks will be built on Killea street from Webster to Calhoun over the remonstrance of the residents of that neighborhood and the vote of Peter Ofenloch, representing the Seventh ward. The improvement is considered a public necessity by the majority of council members.

The committee on streets and alleys, made up of Councilmen Ofenloch, Korte and Johns reported unfavorably on the petition for installing walks along Killea street. An immediate vote was taken by the council. All members but Korte and Ofenloch voted for the improvement.

Want Car Line Extension. Two petitions asking that South Wayne street be paved from Organ avenue to Rudisill boulevard were presented by Councilman J. E. Mills. The proposed improvement had been turned down by the board of works because two of the three property owners living on South Wayne street, in the affected territory, had remonstrated against the paving.

Councilman Mills explained that the paving is wanted in order to gain an extension of the street car line. Mills has been promised, he said, that the line will be run as far as paving is laid. The new pavement will secure six more squares of needed car line, Mills stated.

The matter was referred to the committee on streets and alleys. Schroeder by President.

Louis S. C. Schroeder, former president of the council, attended the Tuesday night session. He was invited to take a seat by the side of President Bayer. Smiling Schroeder mounted the raised platform and settled himself at the right of the presiding officer. Other councilmen, who recalled the denunciation of Councilman Korte two weeks ago, when Schroeder interposed remarks on the Killea street matter, also smiled.

To Have Kickers' Meet. President Bayer announced that there will be a "kickers' meeting" of the committee of the whole next Tuesday evening, to take up the matter of the proposed industrial track, between Holman and Montgomery streets, from the Pennsylvania railroad to Barr street. G. F. Rogge, head of the committee on contracts and franchises, had asked for the special session.

The matter of the proposed track has been the subject of a sharp clash before the board of works. A part of the residents along the way to be affected by the track are as bitterly opposed to the short line as others are enthusiastic for its installation. People living on Montgomery street say that their property would be ruined by the placing of a railroad track behind their homes. Others who own property along the right of way believe that the value of their land would be enhanced.

The track would run through the heart of what is the most thickly settled colored district of the city. It would cause the negro population to seek another location in the city, it is argued. This line of reasoning is used both for and against the proposed track.

SMALL BIRD DETECTS THE COMING OF GAS

Canary to Be Life Saver for the U. S. Troops in France.

Washington, D. C., July 11.—Engineers in the bureau of mines and of chemistry are perfecting devices and

Mine rescue worker carrying canary into mine, showing how soldiers use the bird to detect gases in trenches.

completing plans to nullify the deadly effects of German gas bombs in the trenches. Besides making destructive machines, intended to fight Germans with their own weapons, these engineers are planning preventives to save our soldiers, who will soon be fighting alongside the French and British.

Miners have been using canaries to detect gases below the earth's surface. Their experiences with this bird have been so successful, military engineers have adopted the mining method for the trenches. The best use found for the bird is in advancing toward the enemy.

Just off the front line trenches are sapping galleries dug out in advance of the fighters. Being nearer to the enemy, they are likely to be filled with the carbon monoxide gases of exploded bombs or the remains of the enemy's poison gases.

A squad of sappers, with gas masks ready, work their way ahead, the front man holding up a cage with a canary perched on the cross bar. Only four-tenths of a gas is necessary to enfeeble the bird. It falls off its perch and is sent back to be resuscitated and held for further use. The sappers put on their gas masks and continue their slow advance.

The little yellow breasted bird is also invaluable for detecting the approach of gas blown across from the enemy's trenches. Before the men know gas is coming the canary suddenly keels on its perch, the signal for donning gas masks.

STRIKE AT BREWERY PEACEFULLY SETTLED

Fourteen Men Are "Let Go" as Result of Night Walk-Out.

All is peace about the Berghoff brewery, where the stentorian voices of fifty strikers broke the stillness, at midnight, Tuesday. The disturbance, which police were called to quell, has been settled by a settlement of differences between men employed in the bottling department and brewery managers.

Fourteen workmen have been released from employment as result of the disturbance, when seventy men asked for more pay. The remainder of the number have returned quietly to work. The reason given for discharging the fourteen members of the striking band is that they have been engaged in trouble before and are considered inefficient. Their places have been taken by other men.

Two non-union men, named Fetterson and Craig, are charged with agitating the walk out. They obtained the signatures of seventy men on a petition demanding higher wages. Managers of the brewery state that the two men misrepresented conditions to their employees.

Lowest rate in the bottling department is 25 cents an hour. Wages as high as 40 cents are paid. An increase of two cents, all along the line, is said to have been asked.

When Foreman A. Henschel refused to grant the demands of Fetterson and Craig, Tuesday night, the other signers of the petition were induced to walk out. The band of workmen were clamorous as they assembled before the brewery. Police were called. The men were sent to their homes. On Wednesday most of them returned to work at their former salaries.

Decision is Reached at Meeting of Merchants Tuesday Afternoon.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Buffton, Ind., July 11.—A meeting of the Buffton business men was held yesterday afternoon at the Studabaker bank and the majority favored the holding of a street fair this fall. The fair will be held Sept. 25 to 29. There was some opposition to holding a street fair this fall on account of the war. However, the majority want the fair. The president, Geo. L. Saunders, will hold a meeting soon with his executive committee and the finance committee will be appointed and it will not take many days to know positively what will be done.

WHOLE GOULD FAMILY THE UNLUCKIEST LOVERS IN AMERICA WILL NEW BRIDES OF THE GOULD BOYS END THE OLD HOODOO?

That's the Foremost Topic of New York Gossips, Following the Surprising Marriages of the Young Millionaires, One to a Governess and Other to a Public Dancer.

(Special Staff.)
New York, July 11.—America's most romantic family has again amazed New York's 400 and questions are flying today on every tongue:

"Will these marriages of Kingdom and George Gould, Jr., be any happier than the Gould average?"

"Will society receive Mrs. Kingdom Gould, who was an Italian governess, and Mrs. George Gould, Jr., who was a professional dancer?"

And the gossip tongues are wagging once more over the varied marital history of the House of Gould, whose batting average in happiness is about 27.9.

With a fine disregard for the opinion of their "set," the Goulds have married and unmarried about as they pleased.

George Gould, father of the boys just married, saw beautiful Edith Kingdom on the stage of old Daly's theater. He followed her to London, and they were married in 1886. Society at first ignored her, but when the elder Mrs. Astor bowed to her in the "golden horseshoe" of the Metropolitan Opera house, Edith Kingdom Gould's name in the 400 was assured.

They have four daughters and three sons, and have lived happily ever since.

This can't be said of all the elder George's brothers and sisters.

Frank Gould married Margaret Kelly, whose sister, Eugenia, is the wife of "Al" Davis, tango dancer. Frank's two children are cared for by his sister, Helen, who late in life married Finley J. Shepard. Margaret, divorced, married afterward one Ralph Hill Thomas, and is now the wife of an Albanian prince. Frank's second wife is Edith Kelly, actress, no relative of his first.

Howard Gould, another brother, married Katherine Clemons, actress, from whom he is divorced. He is now said to be worshipping another American actress who has been very popular in London for some years. A sister of Katherine Clemons is the wife of a San Francisco Chinaman.

Edwin Gould married Sarah Brady. They have two children, but

THE GOULD BOYS AND THEIR BRIDES.

At the left are Mr. and Mrs. Kingdom Gould; at the right, Mr. and Mrs. George Gould, Jr. Mrs. Kingdom Gould was Annunziata Camilla Maria Lucet, an Italian governess for Vivien Gould, now Lady Decies. She afterward studied art, and is an accomplished linguist, as is Kingdom. Mrs. George Gould, Jr., was Laura M. Carter, an orphan, lived on the farm of her uncle, E. J. Callahan, at Ardara, N. J., and afterward became a Boston dancing teacher, giving exhibition dances at the Copley-Plaza with her partner, Zenas Crocker.

AN INTERNATIONAL FAMILY.

"Town Topics," weekly journal of New York society, in its current issue publishes this "verse" on the marital affairs of the Goulds—written, of course, before George's marriage:

Oh, tell me, where will next the Goulds their various helpmeets seek; It seems that through the length and breadth of this old earth they trek; From Albion they've called one mate, Hawaii gave another. Fair Gaul has furnished one or two, some U. S. A. did another. Now Kingdom to old Italy has turned to find his spouse— I wonder how these various bloods will mitigate this house? Profoundly thankful we should be to see this newest heaven, The photographs that hence appear will seem a page from heaven.

It is not recorded that the marriage was a happy one. Anna Gould's love affairs furnished newspaper copy for a decade. Her first romance was with Harry Woodruff, actor, who was sent to Harvard by Brother George that he might become Anna's "equal." But before Harvard polished Harry, Anna's heart was won by Count Boni de Castellane.

Anna Gould married in 1897. They had four children. Among the guests at the wedding were the Duke de Talleryand, Boni's cousin, by whom she has two children. Helen Gould, at 45, married Finley Shepard. They have adopted children.

The Gould boys just married have four sisters and a brother. The brother, Jay Gould, married in 1911 Annie Douglas Graham, who is four years his senior. Among the guests at the wedding were the Duke de Talleryand, Boni's cousin, by whom she has two children. Helen Gould, at 45, married Finley Shepard. They have adopted children.

nkoo, of Hawaii.

Vivian Gould's marriage to Lord Decies, an Englishman, was a big social event in 1911. They have three children. The name of Lord Decies' brother has been connected with Kitty Gordon, actress famed for her back.

Majorie Gould's marriage to "Tony" Drexel, of Philadelphia, in 1910, has often been reported as unhappy. They have three children.

The other daughters are Edith, 16, and Gloria, 11. Edwin Gould, Jr., a cousin of the latest bridegrooms, was killed by the accidental discharge of a gun in Georgia recently.

The recent weddings were not attended by the parents of the Gould boys, or any others of the family, except George, Jr., who was at Kingdom's wedding.

CRYING FOR OFFICERS.

Something like a note of alarm comes from the war department that immediate enlistments for the officers' training camps are imperative. This is specially true in Indiana. This state is reported woefully delinquent in the matter of its quota for the second officers' training camp, and the emphasis is laid with added force upon the failure of Fort Wayne to turn in the enlistments expected of her for this service.

Adjutant-General Heistand deplores a prospect that Indiana troops in the first army—for which drawings will be made within a few days—may not be properly led, owing to deficiencies in enlistments for the training camp. This will be deplorable, indeed, if the matter falls out that way, though why any such state of affairs should come about is not easy to understand. There ought to be no dearth of enlistments for places as officers. Applications for commissions should be abundant. Men of the character and personality, of the caliber and experience that in practical degrees fit them for the responsibilities of command surely are not wanting hereabouts. There must be some failure to understand the government's necessity and to appreciate the opportunity held out to the kind of young men who are desired by the government to fit themselves for commissions.

Commissions that range from second-lieutenant to major await those who are fit physically, qualified in mind and by character and are susceptible to the education and training given intensively in the big training camps for officers. Second-lieutenants draw $1,700 pay and majors $3,000 a year with expenses. Applicants for commissions receive $100 a month pay while in training camp, so that there is a fair compensation for time spent, even if no commission be won. With America entering the war on a great military scale the opportunities for promotion are likely to be broad and advancement rapid after the real business of the occasion has once fairly begun for this country. Other armies will have to be raised. The government will draft 687,000 for the first army. Before a year has passed there will be, unless peace should intervene, perhaps two millions of Americans in the field. Armies so vast will require tens of thousands of officers. Those who get the earliest training will have the best opportunities to advance to the higher grades of command. Young majors in the first army will constitute the material out of which colonels will be made for the next army.

Young men of years from 25 to 30 are preferred, where such applicants have had experience in directing men. Such young men, having the other essentials of sound bodies and sound character, with a suitable degree of education, will be warmly welcomed by the war department, the officers in command and at length by the rank and file, than which none can or will appreciate good officers more. Twenty-five to thirty years do not mark the limit. Men who are younger or older will be accepted if they can qualify. Men up to forty-four are eligible and some mighty good men who approximate the maximum will be found.

Young men who believe they ought to serve their country, who believe they can make capable officers of themselves and who are ready to give a year or two "to the lordliest life on earth," will in all things do well to hunt up the military training camp association in this city and file their applications at once. The time for this will expire July 15.

The government is calling. The war department is urging. The armies soon will be waiting. Officers are needed.

CAGES FOR PRECIOUS PAIR OF BIRDS.

Neither Alexander Berkman nor Emma Goldman is a stranger to cells and felon fare. Their prison terms for interfering with military registration will introduce neither of them to anything new, but it is to be hoped that neither will escape making acquaintance of any untried rigors that do not transcend the bounds of humane punishment. The tribulation that has just overtaken this precious pair of birds should have run them down long ago. Two years is not much to pay in settlement of their offenses and considering all they deserve and have contrived to escape, the twain have gotten off easily and softly.

Berkman served many hard years in a Pennsylvania prison for having attempted, a quarter of a century ago, to assassinate Henry C. Frick, then manager of the Carnegie industries and at the time blamed for the great strike at Homestead. Berkman was a self-appointed and self-anointed instrument of vengeance. He was not a striker. His business always has been with his red mouth, and not with toil of the hands and the conditions and compensations of honest and useful labor. Since his release from prison he has done nothing but fare up and down the land preaching his propaganda of destruction and for a large part of that time Emma Goldman has been his unlawful consort and faithful coadjutor. They are a worthless pair of chronic vagrants and are fair prey for the law wherever and whenever they may be picked up.

Berkman and his drabish companion have uttered defiance a good many times, have flouted the law with much impunity and a strange immunity and have had their lawless ways a good deal as they listed, but they took a far leap without looking when they choose a season of war to preach resistance to the authority of the national government. There is now a good chance to make the pair of them earn honest living in the veritable sweat of their brows and to grind their faces on the lap of toil. Prison officials in Atlanta and Jefferson City will be lazy on their jobs if either of these birds is allowed to touch bread that has not been fully sanctified by good bone labor.

CORN WILL COME INTO ITS OWN.

It long has been a matter of wonder in this country that the people of Europe cannot be brought to understand the value of our corn—that is to say Indiana maize—as food. Frequent attempts have been made to popularize corn in Europe, though with no great success. Corn in Europe should fail to appreciate corn as both a valuable and palatable nutriment is a wonder, surely, but less a wonder than that Americans themselves, who raise corn, should be so deficient in a similar appreciation. Corn is a fine cereal food when prepared in any one of a great variety of ways to make it palatable, is as nutritious as wheat, always cheaper and never wanting in abundance. This year, with the wheat crop below the normal some hundreds of millions of bushels and the world to feed, Americans will perforce learn more about corn. By the same token, the people of some of the European countries will learn more about it. The end of the war ought to find a permanent market prepared in the old world for the corn of the new. With our wheat crop below seven hundred million bushels and our corn crop above three billion bushels, Americans and all others who look to America for grain will soon be rearranging their cereal diets to conform to what there is most abundantly to be had.

Some forty Dutch freighters, all with vast cargoes of grain, are waiting at eastern seaports to weigh anchor and hoist sail for Holland. If the game of war is played by this country as the game can be only when it is played to win, those freighters will not discharge their holds at any Dutch or other European neutral port with a frontier upon Germany. The whine of the shipping company that commission firms in Holland will be ruined if this grain be withheld, should stir no sympathies. The Dutch commission men of Holland, like the commission men of Sweden and the shipping nabobs of both those nations and Norway as well have trebled and quadrupled their fortunes out of the war and this mainly by delivering to Germany at cut-throat prices the food that the people of those countries are now rioting to get and threatening their dynasties because it is not to be had. It is because Sweden has applied herself with great assiduity to the feeding of other countries at war prices and neglecting her own people that the monarchy is in a fair way to follow the Romanoff dynasty to the scrap heap of worn-out royalty. The Dutch traders should be given the embargo to smoke in their pipes while they think it over.

If congressional gas were only the right sort what a killing we could make turning our statesmen loose on the battle fronts. Maybe it is at that. You never can tell till you try. Congressional gas has proved its deadly power on many a bit of good legislation and is doing it now.

No peace without annexations in the Bethmann-Hollweg slogan. Its principal shortcoming seems to be that a good part of Germany does not believe in it.

The Texas potato crop is exhausted. Hence the joyous leap of tubers to a dollar more a bushel. It is at least novel if not consoling to find that the boost of price has a reason.

UNITED STATES USING SCOTLAND YARD SYSTEM TO GET GERMAN SPIES

(BY HERBERT DUCKWORTH.)

Scotland yard, world famous cradle of English detectives, is to be the model for the United States national intelligence service created to exterminate the audacious German spy and make impossible further "leaks" likely to imperil by U. boats our soldiers on their way to France.

"The Yard" is the headquarters of London's metropolitan police. What we will copy is the "special department"—the secret police force engaged on "political work" for the whole empire.

"Silence and secrecy" is the motto at "the yard," where "news" is absolutely never given out. Every morning Sir Edward Henry, the commissioner, holds a "council of seven." At these twenty minute sessions, at which the aides sit around "the chief" like school children before their teacher, plans are decided upon that may start wheels of the gigantic machine moving in most distant parts of the world.

When Scotland yard goes after a man it lands him. It doesn't defeat itself by allowing a press agent to give all the latest and prospective developments to the newspapers. Items like "Three spies were shot in the Tower of London this morning" have been the only visible signs of the yard's activities during the last two and a half years.

Scotland yard can teach our sleuths much about the habits of the Teutonic spy. It knows the big men are buried deep, and are high in the confidence of the government upon which they are spying. It knows a German educated in England, masquerading as an Englishman, and commissioned in the British navy, blew up Kitchener.

Thirty thousand of the "little fellows" who were on Scotland yard's blacklist were rounded up in England the first week of the war. Then the secret service laid for the master spies, men who for years had been planted in the war office, the admiralty, the foreign office and other government departments. It took months of the cleverest kind of espionage to rout out these arch spies.

For many months England was accused of being "spy mad." But she was "spy mad" with good cause. She took no chances. She removed Prince Louis of Battenberg from his naval command and forced him to oblige Lord Haldane, lord high chancellor, and former war minister, because of his friendship with the kaiser.

The United States is beginning to understand what it means to have military secrets supposedly known to only a few high officers sent to Wilhelmstrasse. Our new Scotland yard secret service is relied on to stop this spying.

It is whether that sovereign right shall be exercised to their oppression by greedy and lawless interests or for their welfare by government itself.

RADIUM CURES CANCER.

(The World's Work.)

Practically all experimenters have demonstrated one basic fact—that radium does destroy cancer cell with out producing any disintegrating effect upon normal tissue. The radium molecule is the only agent known to man which succeeds in doing this. Of that supremely important fact there is no longer the slightest room for doubt. That is to say, if the radium rays could be brought to bear upon every cancer cell, this scourge would vanish from the world. The reasons that its use does not always succeed are many and too intricate for description in this place. But the records of so many positive cures are now available, cures of cancers usually regarded as hopeless and inoperable, that we must finally conclude that medical science has obtained a powerful weapon in its struggle with this disease.

C. E. Schulze, who for twenty-one years has been one of the most valued employees of Root & Co.'s great store, and who, for a good part of that time had the management of the silk goods department, has tendered his resignation and will leave shortly for Lincoln, Neb., where he will associate himself with a friend in the dry goods business.

George P. Evans, secretary of the Hoosier Manufacturing company, returned home Sunday morning in the pink of health from a three months' tour on the continent. During his travels Mr. Evans visited England, Holland, Germany, France, Spain and Italy, having put in the greater portion of his time in Paris. He was in that city during their great gun race and witnessed the firing of the great guns.

GOVERNMENT OR GREED?

(New York World.)

When it comes to embargoes upon food and fuel, such as are now proposed as measures of national defense, nothing new is advocated. We already have embargoes.

Food has been embargoed in this country for years by combinations of warehouse men and speculators. To check the free movement of supplies from producer to consumer and to withhold them from market for the purpose of creating an artificial scarcity are policies that result as truly in an embargo as any prohibition or restriction of exports by government. The only difference is in the motive and the results.

That coal has been embargoed in the United States is proved by the findings of the federal trade commission, and it is now practically admitted by operators and railroad managers. There is no lack of coal, but production has been inefficient, distribution has been faulty and car shortage has become chronic. Taking advantage of these conditions, by no means unavoidable, speculators and middlemen, standing between the miner and the consumer, have practiced a hold-up which is nothing less than an embargo.

These embargoes are privately ordained for selfish ends. They are without authority of law. In fact, most of them are in plain violation of law. They are intended to keep famine all ways within sight of the people. They do more than interfere with industry. They lead straight to plunder and outrage.

Such limited governmental embargoes upon food and fuel as are advocated at Washington are in the public interest alone. They are not to make prices higher, but lower. They will facilitate and equalize distribution, not check it. They will hinder nothing except from the enemy. They will so administer the basic products of the country that they will help us win the war. Finally, these public embargoes will automatically remove the worst of our private embargoes. No private embargo can survive a public embargo for a day.

Food and fuel monopolists know this, and that is why many of them, through the agency of serviceable members of congress, are protesting against the pending legislation. As for Americans in general, the question is not whether they will have food and fuel control, for the have it al-

Fall Coattress of Elegant Line

New York, July 11.—No man can possibly tell whether or not one style of woman's fall apparel is a cost or a dress. Advance fall designs are perhaps less confusing than summer models because they are less draped, and more severely tailored.

One of the most attractive of coat dresses for fall is distinguished by a graceful skirt arrangement of side plaits.

First showing of fall fashions indicate a continuance of the rather short and moderately full skirt.

Miller — Weaver.

Miss Grace Weaver, daughter of Mrs. Mary Weaver, of Anderson avenue, and Mr. George Miller, a son of Mrs. Mary Miller, of Green street, were married in St. Peter's church on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, with Rev. Father Dapp officiating at the nuptial mass.

The bride and groom were the attendants. The bride looked very attractive in a pretty gown of white tulle with trimmings of gold braid. The bride wore a veil that fell the length of her dress and she carried a bouquet of white roses and swansons.

The mother of the groom wore a beautiful gray crepe de chine gown, a hat to correspond, trimmed with pink roses and her flowers were pink roses. The wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home to immediate relatives, about thirty people in all. The house and bride's table were decorated with roses and ferns.

The church was also decorated for the wedding with palms and baskets of daisies and other white flowers. In the afternoon the bride and groom left for Lake James for a few days and when they return they will make their home with the groom's mother, 1828 Green street.

The bride wore a blue suit with gray hat, shoes and gloves for traveling. The bridegroom is a plasterer and he and his bride enjoy the friendship of many acquaintances and affection of relatives and closest friends. Not many pre-nuptial parties were given in honor of the bride, owing to a recent bereavement in the family.

Larger Hats Appear as Days Grow Hotter

Hats for wear at the present time are usually small or medium in size, but the larger trimmed hats will certainly make their charming appearance as the hotter days approach and Old Sol's rays threaten feminine complexions.

As the hats widen they will assume a much flatter outline. Some designers have shown the Watteau shepherdess hat for summer, that having the very bewitching turn-up back.

The hats of the moment are more or less military in character and are extremely simple, often depending upon color for richness and ornament.

The high Russian lines are quite popular. Some very new shapes have Watteau pleated brims, and high peaked brim effects, smooth or elaborately rippled.

A Napoleon hat is very smart, but is trying to a woman who has not decided beauty. A new tricorn has a flare in the back, the flare sometimes ornamented with a feather that heightens the entire hat in effect considerably.

Some of the best motif designs are in oval shape, finished with tassels, fringe or carrying decorations. Flower crowns are expected to be popular for the summer hats.

CONVENIENT AND A TIME SAVER.

A most convenient contrivance for the woman who does her own sewing is the spool rod, placed in some handy place in her sewing room. This rod, which may be simply a curtain rod, allows the spools of thread and darn-cotton to be slipped over it where they are always in full view, and easily secured. If one does not have a sewing room, it may be fastened on the inside of the cover of a shirt waist box in the bed room, or in the cover of the window seat in the living room. Anywhere it's convenient and saves much time.

The present British parliament has lived longer than any of its twenty-nine predecessors since the act of union.

Gay Colors Feature New Styles in Sports

In general, delicate shades and dainty patterns have vanished from sport costumes. It's a splash of brilliant color today and the most daring of designs. Gone are the sprays of rosebuds and sprigs of forget-me-nots. Instead, we have big dots, wide stripes, bold checks and curious Chinese, Japanese and Egyptian symbols. The sheet of crepe is draped in a design that used to be thought suitable only for a sport fabric.

Shantung, so fashionable, is striped in the loudest of colors or shows a big embroidered dot. The crinkled khaki kool, not satisfied with its last season's beauty, now shows a jacquard design or the widest of fancy stripes.

There are cottons with a crepe weave and cottons and tussahs combined, splashed with dots in colors that fairly dazzle the unprotected eye. Circles, stripes on cottons and silks, are favorite designs. A white khaki kool shows citron colored dots, and in these dots are circles of Chinese blue or steel gray.

GREAT CARE NECESSARY IN CANNING VEGETABLES

Vegetables have always been difficult to can successfully. Sometimes salt is used in sufficient quantities to act as a preservative. This makes the product too salty to be pleasing in flavor. Canning compounds of various sorts are sometimes added. These are compounds composed of substances injurious to health and should not be used.

There are no acids in vegetables such as are found in fruit to assist in preserving them; the many vegetables such as corn, peas and beans contain substances which furnish excellent food for the growth of bacteria. These are some of the reasons for special care being taken if success would always result.

Any type of either glass or tin can that can be sealed air tight when hot may be used in canning. This would eliminate the sealing waxed tin can of course. For ordinary home use, glass cans are much preferable because they may be used year after year while the tin can is used but once. When buying new cans, those having a glass top are much preferable to those having a metal top.

The first step in successful canning is to see that the cans are air tight. To test a can, partly fill with water, place rubber and tighten the top, and invert for a few minutes. If the water leaks out the can should not be used. Frequently the trouble may be remedied by changing tops and rubbers. New rubbers of the best quality should be used in the canning.

Purdue.

USEFUL HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

An effectual hard water softener is oatmeal.

Vinegar is excellent for moistening and softening glue.

Dip new brooms in hot soap suds. This makes them tough and flexible.

Tins can be made silver bright by rubbing with soda and old paper.

After the dust is wiped off a mirror a little camphor will brighten it.

Obstinate whitewash stains may be quickly removed with a little hot vinegar.

Tea and coffee stains are easily removed from cups, rubbing with damp soda.

A piece of alum kept in the silver drawer will prevent the silver from tarnishing.

Clothes that must be ironed in a short time must be sprinkled with very hot water.

If the cream for whipping or for berries is slightly soured it can be used if a pinch of soda is beaten in.

A spoonful of soda in a basin of warm water will thoroughly clean hair brushes and combs. Rinse in clear water.

HELPFUL HINTS FOR THE BUSY.

If ribbons or ties become crumpled, they may be made as flat and straight as can be in just a few minutes of time. If you will dampen them, and then wind them smoothly and tightly around a lighted electric light bulb.

In using a high ladder on polished floors to prevent its slipping, put beneath it two pieces of sand paper, glued together. This will give a grip alike on the ladder and on the floor, and prevent slipping.

If you would soften the water in a new cistern, paint the walls with water glass, applying with a brush as paint, and you will be surprised at the big difference it will make with the softness of the water.

In washing a crepe de chine waist of delicate shade, you will be enabled to retain the delicate shading if you will put into the water which is used for rinsing a piece of crepe paper of the same shade. This will tint the water, and retain the shade in the waist.

RIBBONS NOT FOR WOMAN WITH LIMITED PURSE

Lingerie and negligees of ribbon offer unique designs. We can not recommend these treasures to the lady who must needs practice dress economy. They are expensive and perishable, but they are interesting. Who would have anything wear forever, except one's hair?

A united petticoat and camisole of white tulle shows silver ribbons running up and down and round about, forming latticed effects. A negligee has skirt and jacket made of wide ribbons—plain and patterned—stitched together, and also cut as to form vandykes, all of which is flowerlike and dainty.

A clever way of uniting ribbons is to have one form a plain panel going up and down, with puffed liberty satin ribbon placed between. Skirt and corsage may both be arranged this way with excellent results.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

WOMEN WORRIED.

Report That They Must Pay Poll Tax Causes Excitement.

Huntington, Ind., July 11.—Huntington county women, especially those in the rural districts, were worried Monday when a report became current that the women who registered would have to pay a $2 poll tax. Some women refused to register on the strength of the report, the source of which is unknown. Some persons say the report was started as a joke, but the women leaders think it is part of a campaign to discourage the women voters. Some men who registered inquired whether they would be liable for military service if they signed the applications.

HUNTINGTON BRIEFS.

Huntington, July 11.—The county

exemption board completed its task of renumbering men of military age in Huntington county Saturday. The library board has voted to aid in the establishment of a library of 10,000 volumes at Ft. Benjamin Harrison. Omer O. Deeds, a plumber, who has been working at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, came home Saturday and found that his two oldest sons had enlisted in Company C. I. N. G. of Huntington. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Spencer have received word that their son, Donovan Spencer, of the United States regulars, has been chosen for the recruiting service. Eighteen men, some of them well past the maximum draft age, have fled applications for admission to the second officers' training camp at Ft. Benjamin Harrison. William Baker, age three, almost bit his tongue off when he tripped over a toy wagon and fell, striking his chin. A physician sowed the two pieces together. Five thousand women were listed in the poll taken by the Equal Franchise league. The workers urged women to register and obtained data in regard to the ability to do special war work. Jonathan Shroyer, age eighty-two, of near Roanoke, is doing his bit to win the war by cultivating corn. He works every day on his farm.

REGISTRATION SLOW.

Hartford City, Ind., July 11.—Little more than 10 per cent of the total number of voters who should qualify to take part in the election for the selection of delegates to the constitutional convention in September, have made out their blanks here up to this time. The total number to register is 873. The board has been in session fourteen days and will continue in session until August 20. A mistaken impression that men do not have to register seems to prevail in Blackford county.

ACCIDENTS AT STROH.

Stroh, Ind., July 11.—Dewey, the 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Wilson, while playing in the road near his home, became tangled and lay down at the side of the road to rest. He fell asleep with his legs protruding into the roadway. An automobile passed over the boy's legs, badly injuring them. Fred Hollison, an engineer, was seriously bruised about the legs and hips when a car loaded with mail at the Wabash-Portland cement plant crashed into the cab of his engine.

YOUTH ATTACKS GIRLS.

Kendallville, Ind., July 11.—Percy Knowles, 15 years old, is under arrest, charged with assaulting Catherine Duwhan, 8-years-old daughter of Chief of Police Duwhan, of this city, and Catherine Hornett, 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hornett, late yesterday afternoon across the lake. For a time it was feared the young man would be lynched. He has made full confession and this morning was bound over to the circuit court.

REV. W. F. COOK DEAD.

Warsaw, Ind., July 11.—The Rev. William F. Cook, age sixty-five, who was born and reared in Warsaw, died Saturday at San Francisco. He was a graduate of DePauwe and Boston universities, and did research work at the British museum, in London. He was a member of the North Indiana conference of the Protestant Episcopal church. He served two years as a bishop.

SENATOR MUNTON NAMED.

Kendallville, Ind., July 11.—Senator C. J. Munton has been appointed county superintendent by the council of defense of the boys' working reserve which will be organized in Noble county within a short time. The principal object will be to line them up for industrial and agricultural service, to take the place of the men who are called to the battlefield.

COUNTY LOSES $3,000.

Auburn, Ind., July 11.—Although DeKalb county paid into the state treasury $18,498.14 for the support of the public schools of the State of Indiana, the county only receives back as its share of the school funds $15,348.99, losing over $3,000 in the state apportionment of school funds.

TOOTHPICK REMOVED FROM ARM.

Warsaw, Ind., July 11.—A toothpick nearly two inches long was removed by local physicians from the arm of Mamie Edgington, age fifteen. The piece of wood had been imbedded in the flesh more than a year. How it got there is not known.

PIECE OF WRECKED ZEPPELIN.

Hartford City, Ind., July 11.—A piece of the German Zeppelin L-21, which was shot down at Cuffey, England on the night of September 2, is on display in a store window here. The relic was sent to a shoe dealer here by his brother.

KICKED BY HORSE.

Kendallville, Ind., July 11.—Gerald Tidwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Tidwell, was painfully injured last evening when he was kicked by a horse on his parents' farm, near this city. Eleven stitches were required to close the wound inflicted on his head.

CONTRACT REFUSED.

Kendallville, Ind., July 11.—Because of the rapid advance in material the Indiana Engineering and Construction company has refused the contract awarded it for the construction of the city's new reservoir. The council will advertise for new bids.

GAVE SILO TALK.

Chiefs Win and Lose and Drop Back Into Last Place

Pitchers Are Hit Considerably During the Afternoon's Games.

A defeat, a victory, and a place at the bottom of the heap are all that the Chiefs have to show for their work yesterday. They might have just as well rested easily during the afternoon and waited for returns from the game at Peoria in which the newcomers made their debut by winning from Muskegon and taking seventh position vacated by the Benders just before they retired from our midst.

It was a hard afternoon and the balls traveled a long distance when the hits and errors are considered. In the first game Essick's Black Sox won from the chiefs, 8 to 5, while the locals made it up in the second contest by winning 10 to 4. In the first the visitors played like a bunch of high school boys but the Chiefs went them one better and put on a good exhibition of grade school baseball.

Grand Rapids grabbed the lead in the first game, by connecting with Roberts for the means of scoring two runs in the opening round. They held it until the last of the fourth when the Chiefs forged to the lead by marking up three. In the next inning, however, the visitors came back, tying the score, and then after an inning rest, much needed by both clubs, they scored three in the seventh and two in the eighth. Our gang tried in vain to take the lead again but the most they could do was get two around the Hoffman, who was sent to Port Wayne from the Benders arrived in time to bat for Gleich in the ninth. He whiffed, but took his position at third in the next game and was credited with a single and a run.

Faeth started for Grand Rapids in the second and he had little more than a desire to get one over. His specialty for the afternoon was wild heaves and one uncorked in the very first inning gave the Chiefs the first of their ten runs. Grand Rapids came back with one in the second and two in the third, but the Chiefs were not to be outdone and they took three in the last of the third just to regain their lead.

After that it was all over. Doc Cummins was boss and proved to be a mighty strict one for the visitors. He allowed them one more run during the game, but not until the locals had a three run lead and after that two runs in the sixth and two in the eighth for the Chiefs put the game on ice. Faeth was relieved of his duties for the day in the sixth, after his last effort.

Half Blind, Crippled Ohio Lad a Pitcher

With all the examples of nerve in perseverance in baseball there is, perhaps, no more striking example than that of William Forsyth, 19, Fremont, O., boy, who is trying to make a pitcher of himself.

Half blind, Forsyth lost his right eye when a child, and handicapped with a crippled hand, the youth is one of the best amateur pitchers in northern Ohio and hopes to break into professional ball next year.

Forsyth lost his thumb several years ago, but by practice learned to get a firm grip on the ball. He has a assortment of curves and a good change of pace.

Recently he fanned thirty-five men in two games, holding his opponents to three hits in the first contest, which is pretty good evidence of his control.

CLEAR THE TRACK FOR GIANTS THEY HAVE HIT THEIR STRIDE

(By Paul Purman.)

Last spring after visiting the New York Giants at their training camp at Marlin, Tex., I predicted that the success or failure of the Giants this year would depend on a great deal upon the direction their temperament was permitted to take them.

Made up of the greatest collection of stars in the National League, the Giants might well have run away with the race or do just what they are doing.

What they did depended entirely upon temperament.

Had the Giants been playing the kind of baseball which won twenty-six straight games for them last summer, they would be far and away ahead of any club in the league, but until lately they have not been able to get started and are now only a matter of two or three games ahead of the Phillies.

Player for player the Giants are a 50 per cent better club than the Phillies.

Look them over: At first the young, ing had been accepted and turned into a double by our good friend Blumh. However, Faeth should not be blamed for a double by Smith, for the hard-working catcher has developed a habit of gritting his teeth and landing on the pill like a ton of bricks. Carpenter didn't get the Chiefs under control until they were ready to be controlled.

Gleich was relieved of his turn at bat in the first game and the deal must have gone under the skin, for his offerings in the second contest included a double and a homer. The double was presented to him by some nice crossing in the outfield, but the homer sure was a "dandy."

Concerning Cummins' "wheat ball," the "Doc" should know whether it's right or not, having been an umpire once.

About two more wallpops at the ball and Brown is going to be dubbed a hard hitting demon. His sacrifice fly in the first game was one of the longest hits ever poled in the park and Mathes can thank his stars, or whatever he thanks, that he was camping far from the usual position.

SKED FOR SIX CLUBS.

Harrisburg and Utica Have Dropped Out of New York State League.

Syracuse, N. Y., July 11.—John H. Farrell, president of the New York State League, has finished compiling the schedule of the six clubs now in the league. Harrisburg and Utica have dropped out. The new season begins today with Syracuse playing at Binghamton, Scranton at Elmira and Wilkesbarre at Reading.

Three Managers in Four Days—Callahan, Wagner, Bezdek—That's New Record Established by Barney Dreyfuss.

BY PAUL PURMAN.

Three managers in four days, that's an all-time baseball record.

Presidents of baseball clubs are seldom credited with records in the dope books, but this record must be credited to Barney Dreyfuss, president of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

In four days Dreyfuss had three managers in turn piloting his ball club. The first was Jim Callahan, who began the season with the Pirates; the second, Honus Wagner, who threw up the job in two days, and the third, Hugo Bezdek, who deserves credit for his nerve if for nothing else.

Bezdek's appointment is more or less an experiment. Practically unknown to the baseball world, it is a question whether the former Chicago athlete will be able to accomplish what a smart ballplayer like Callahan failed to achieve and the wily and ancient Honus did not care to attempt.

Bezdek has been with the Pirates as a coach and scout. His earlier activities have been generally limited to college athletics, football mainly, in which he never played professional baseball. The only other managers who come to mind who have not been players are Bill Armour and Branch Riekey.

Football fans will remember Bezdek as the dazzling gridiron star of the Maroons in the early years of this century. His last game was the memorable 2 to 0 defeat of Michigan by Chicago in 1903.

He has since coached college teams, having been with the Oregon university coach champions last year.

Jim Callahan is a smart manager. His failure at Pittsburgh cannot be any more ascribed to his deficiencies than the failure of Dreyfuss to spend money for good ballplayers, instead of the bush leaguers he has been trying to keep in the race with.

Callahan is a great fault. He is inclined to be upstage and in this way fails to gain the confidence of his ballplayers.

This probably was the cause of his failure with the Chicago White Sox when he had unlimited money to spend and built up the wonderful pitching staff which included Eddie Cicotte, Mel Wolfgang, Red Faber, Reb Russell and Jim Scott and which added Ray Schalk and Happy Felsch to the club.

Callahan tried hard at Pittsburgh. He had every possible expedient to get a winning club but he couldn't win with the misfits Dreyfuss wished on him.

Wagner's case is different. In the first place he doesn't want to play ball this year. He has plenty of money and didn't care to take the trouble to get in shape. His decision to play was merely a concession to his friendship for Dreyfuss.

Wagner is popular in Pittsburgh. By becoming manager of a tailend club he realized that he might forfeit his popularity, a sacrifice that even his friendship for Dreyfuss would not counterbalance.

Right now it looks as though Bezdek has a thankless job before him.

After Ty Cobb could hit in only thirty-five consecutive games it is quite likely Jennings will ask waivers on him.

Fire engines passing the Browns park almost broke up a ball game in St. Louis the other day. This could happen only in St. Louis or Pittsburgh.

SPEED MERCHANTS TO RACE AT STATE PARK

DePalma and Oldfield Will Fight for Dirt Track Supremacy Saturday.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 11.—This city is not to be deprived of a great automobile racing classic this year, despite the fact that the annual speedway Decoration Day race was called off because of war, as Barney Oldfield, master driver of the world, and Ralph DePalma, idol of the speedways, will clash in three racing duels of 25, 15 and 10 miles at the State Fair grounds next Saturday afternoon.

The speed battles of the renowned speed kings will be the third and last in a series of three match-races to settle the world's dirt track championship, and, as each of the noted and nervy drivers has chalked up one victory to his credit, it is predicted that the two stars of the racing realm will fight fast and furiously from start to finish in the deciding events here.

Milwaukee, Wis., was the scene of the initial speed activities of the veteran rivals, and Oldfield packed away from DePalma in three straight races. Barney was overconfident when they hooked up at Detroit July Fourth in the second of the series, his easy earlier victory making him think he would have no difficulty in humiliating his redoubtable Italian opponent, and DePalma turned the tables and made him swallow three bitter doses of defeat. Ralph was so fast that he broke the world's record for 25 miles by 35 seconds.

Oldfield is already here with his new and fresh "submarine speedster," in which he will start the contests, and his "Delage Devil," the emergency car. They are being put in spick and span shape so that Barney will have no alibi to offer if his old-time enemy repeats his Detroit dose. DePalma and his two fast 12-cylinder Packards, with aeroplane motors, will reach this city tomorrow, coming direct from Detroit, where they are being primed for the gruelling speed spurts here.

Because both Barney and Ralph will pilot cars capable of a speed of almost 120 miles an hour, on the big speedways and because of the bitterness of their rivalry, it is predicted here in the real home of racing that records for various distances from one to twenty-five miles will be smashed to smithereens and even tinner bits when the feudists of the speed circles snarl and fight for the world's dirt track championship Saturday afternoon.

The Money-Making Muggsyisms of 'Muggsy' McGraw

Canny Baiter of Umpires and Players Has Been "Cashing In" on His Rough-House Tactics on the Diamond These Many Years.

BY J. B. SHERIDAN.

WHEN John J. McGraw, manager of the New York National League Baseball Club, hit Umpire William Byrd on the jaw at Cincinnati a week or so ago, a wild yell of "Blackguard! Thug! Roughneck! Rowdy! Bar him from baseball!" went up from the writers for the daily and weekly press.

McGraw was roundly taken to task. It was pointed out that baseball could not hope to survive such actions as those of McGraw.

Which makes the veteran follower of baseball smile.

What is the use of abusing McGraw for doing what he has been doing for twenty-five years?

Why abuse McGraw when such actions, covering a period of twenty-five years, have made him the highest salaried and most famous man in baseball?

What is the use of saying that people would come out to see McGraw argue and fight with other managers and umpires and players, when the fact is that year after year more people, outside of New York, go to see McGraw play than go to see any manager in baseball?

What is the use of writers censuring McGraw for his "aggressiveness" and counseling courtesy and fair play on the ball field, when McGraw's team makes on an average of $30,000 a year, while McGraw draws salary and share of profits almost up to $50,000 a year, while the team managed by his only rival in winning baseball games, Connie Mack, drew so poorly that he had to dispose of his high-salaried players and accept a salary of some $7500 a year for himself?

Don't say that McGraw's team is at home, in New York, the center of the greatest population in the United States, while other teams are at home in much more limited population centers of population.

Remember, McGraw's teams draw, and long have drawn, more persons in the smaller cities than any team managed by a courteous, well-behaved, peaceable manager.

New York, headed by the aggressive McGraw, drew three times as many people in the cities outside of New York as the world's champion Athletics drew in the years when they had proven their superiority to McGraw's New York team.

When McGraw went to Philadelphia to play the National League Club of that city he got more for his 40 per cent of the gate receipts than the Athletics, a championship team, got for their 60 per cent when playing at Philadelphia, their home city.

Aggressiveness and Attendance.

It may be true that McGraw draws because he has a good team. The Athletics had a much better team. Yet in Philadelphia, the home of the Athletics, McGraw outdrew the well-behaved world's champions, two persons to one.

It may be that McGraw's "aggressive" "rowdy," if you will—tactics and the aggressive, i. e., rowdy, actions of his players do not attract spectators.

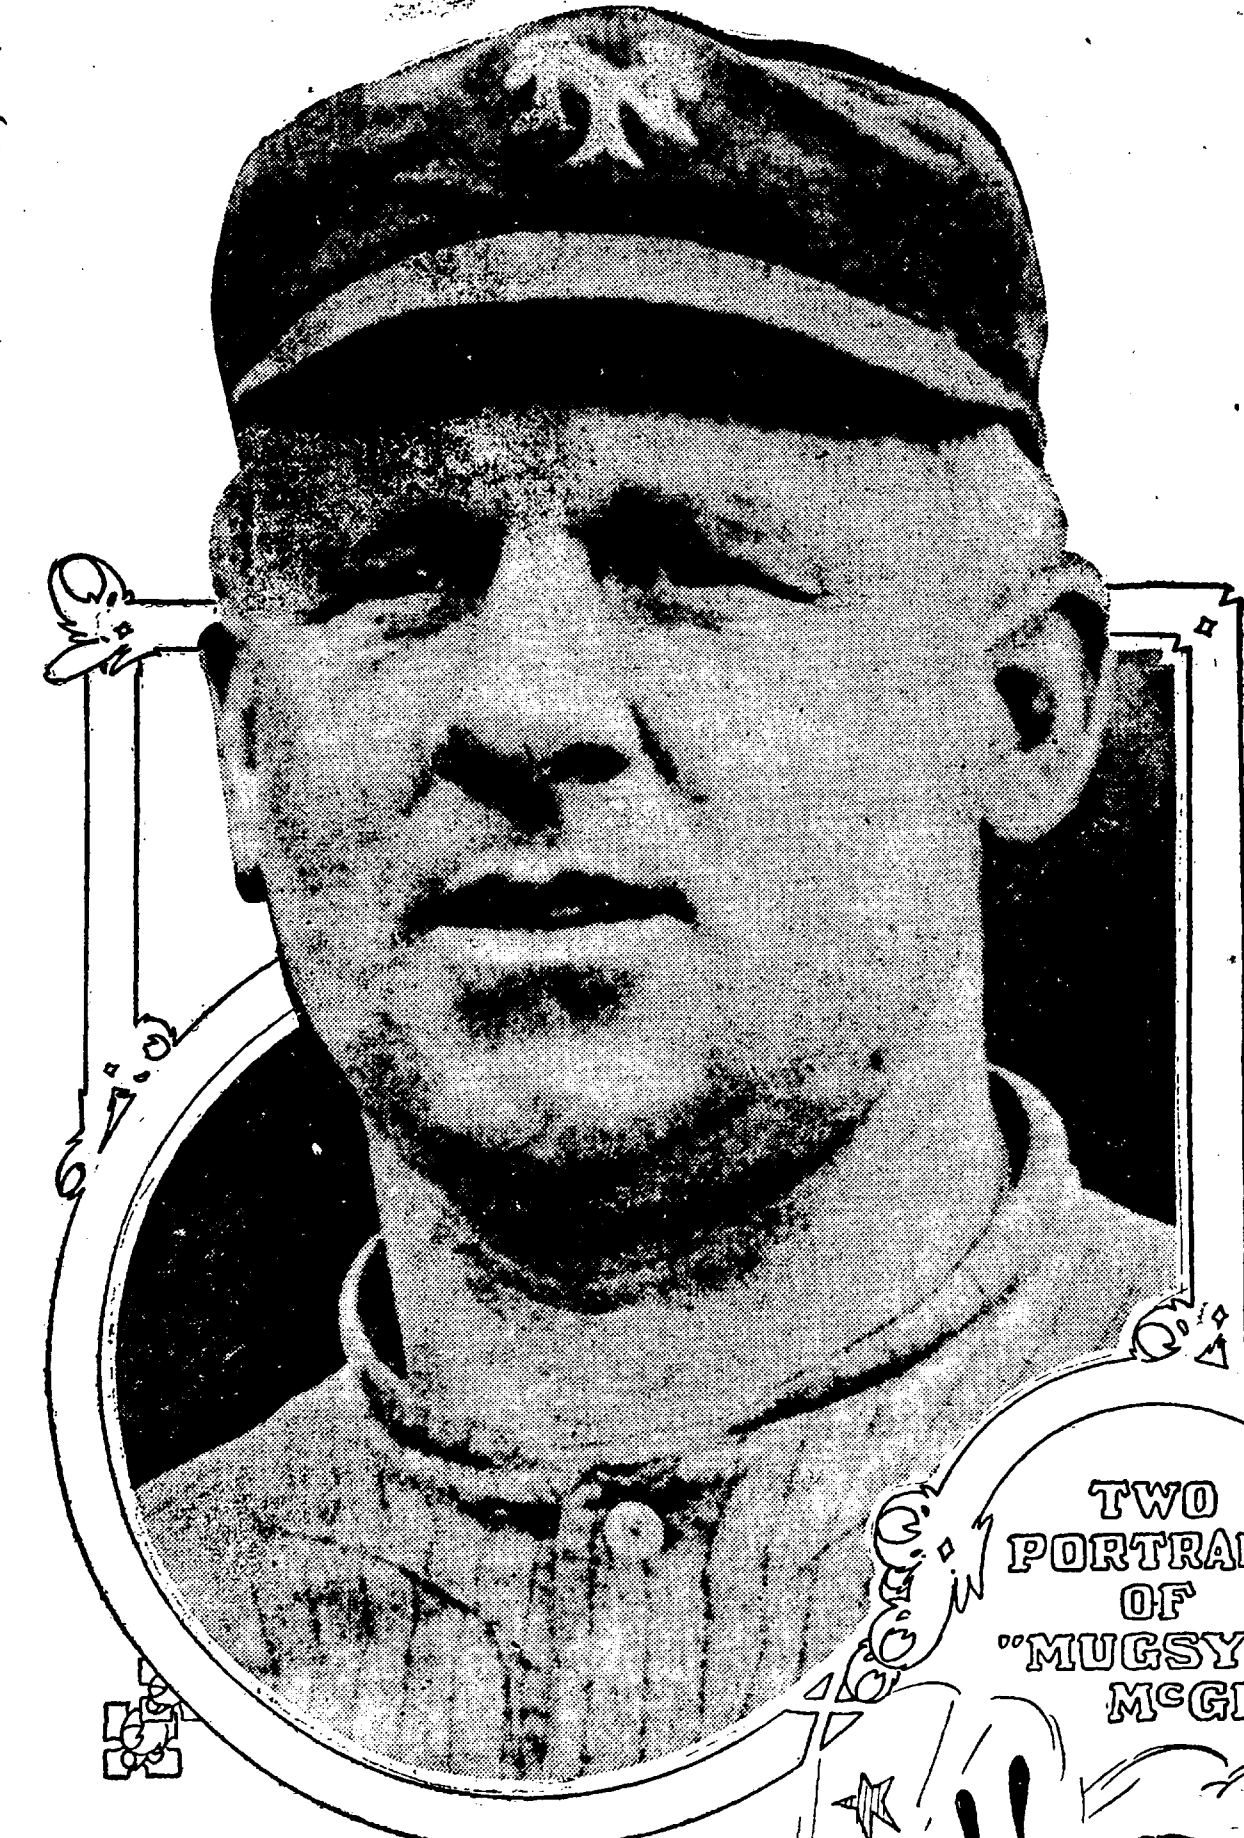

Yet the record clearly shows that spectators do not stay away from the baseball games played by the New York club because of the superaggressive tactics of McGraw and of his players.

The record backs McGraw in pursuance of his "aggressiveness."

He draws more people to the games than any other manager. He draws more salary than any other four managers combined. At home and abroad he outdraws all other clubs.

They have been talking about McGraw's rowdiness and the necessity of driving him out of baseball, if baseball was to flourish, for twenty-five years.

Yet every year sees McGraw grow greater in drawing power, in playing strength and in personal aggrandizement. He signed a new contract to manage the Giants last year. That con-

TWO PORTRAITS OF "MUGGSY" MCGRAW

"Take him away, Pill! Take him away," said Von der Ahe. "Wait until he grows up and den pring him around again. Den I consider signing him. He iss still in der class of der poys on der lodt."

Gleason tried hard to induce Von der Ahe to take McGraw. The big German was obdurate. Big men had been the style in baseball and he was not prepared to sign a slim lad like McGraw. The boy weighed 125 pounds then, and really was the lightest youngster that ever entered professional baseball to that time.

Later on, "Tot" Murphy of Yale played with New York, but Murphy probably was heavier than McGraw when both entered the league.

Gleason sent McGraw on to Jack Chapman, who was then managing Baltimore in its first year, 1892, in the National League. Chapman took McGraw, but used him as a substitute. The famous New York leader was employed at second, short and third during his first two years in the major league and did not make a wonderful record in any position. His aggressiveness alone kept him in baseball.

In 1894 Ed Hanlon took charge of the Baltimore Club. He had several old players on his team and had to release many of them. He kept McGraw, got Hugh Jennings, now manager of Detroit, and Harry Taylor from Louisville, picked up Keeler from Brooklyn, Joe Kelley from Boston, Walter Brodie and

"Kid" Gleason from St. Louis and won three championships with them.

Practically all of these players had been discarded by other clubs. Not one of them was considered to be in major league class. Robinson, the catcher, now manager of Brooklyn, and McMahon, a pitcher, were the only men on the team deemed worthy of being called major leaguers. By the end of 1894, McGraw, Kelley, Jennings and Keeler were known as the "Big Four," the third of that name in baseball. They held that reputation until the team disbanded in 1898.

McGraw Remade Baseball.

McGraw, the "rowdy," really remade the game of baseball in 1894. He changed it from the heavy hitting, fast pitching, comparatively slow game it had been to that time into the fast running, tricky pitching, bunting, hit-and-run, run-em-out game of today.

The game of baseball, as it stands today, is the work of this so-called "rowdy," John J. McGraw.

What changes have come into baseball since McGraw entered it? Pitching distance changed from 50 to 60 feet.

Foul strike rule forced by McGraw's fouling-off tactics. Catcher brought up behind the bat by McGraw's bunting tactics.

All batters obliged to run out hits to the infield and to run out and turn first base on all hits to the outfield.

Bunt advanced from an occasional freak play to an art.

Third baseman and shortstop and other infielders obliged to play in close left runners' beat out slow balls, hit deliberately.

Hit-and-run play developed, if, indeed, not employed for the first time in baseball.

Hurry up, fast game style of play, put into force.

Aggressiveness and "umpire baiting" developed into a science.

When these changes in play first became visible to spectators, Edward Hanlon, manager of the Baltimore team, was credited with their invention, development and application. The inexorable test of time proved that McGraw, not any other person, was the inventor of the new plays, the "spark plug," that speeded up the machine to make them.

Hanlon did not prove successful after he parted from McGraw.

Jennings has not been rated at all so successful a manager as his right-hand team-mate at Baltimore. Kelly failed as a manager. Robinson has had some measure of success as manager of Brooklyn.

McGraw has enjoyed seventeen years of uninterrupted artistic and finan-

Could Make Pitcher Fitch.

McGraw was, however, recognized as a "great man at the bat." That meant that he could "make the pitcher pitch," "foul off" good strikes, bunt, drag-bunt "cross his infield," worry the pitcher with sharp words, get the catcher mad, nag and bluff the umpire with his superior speed of thought and bitterness of tongue, scare basemen by threatening to spike them, and do the thousand and one little things that a great ballplayer does to win ball games, things which are not in the book, which are invisible and inaudible to the spectators and which for these reasons have come to be known as "inside baseball."

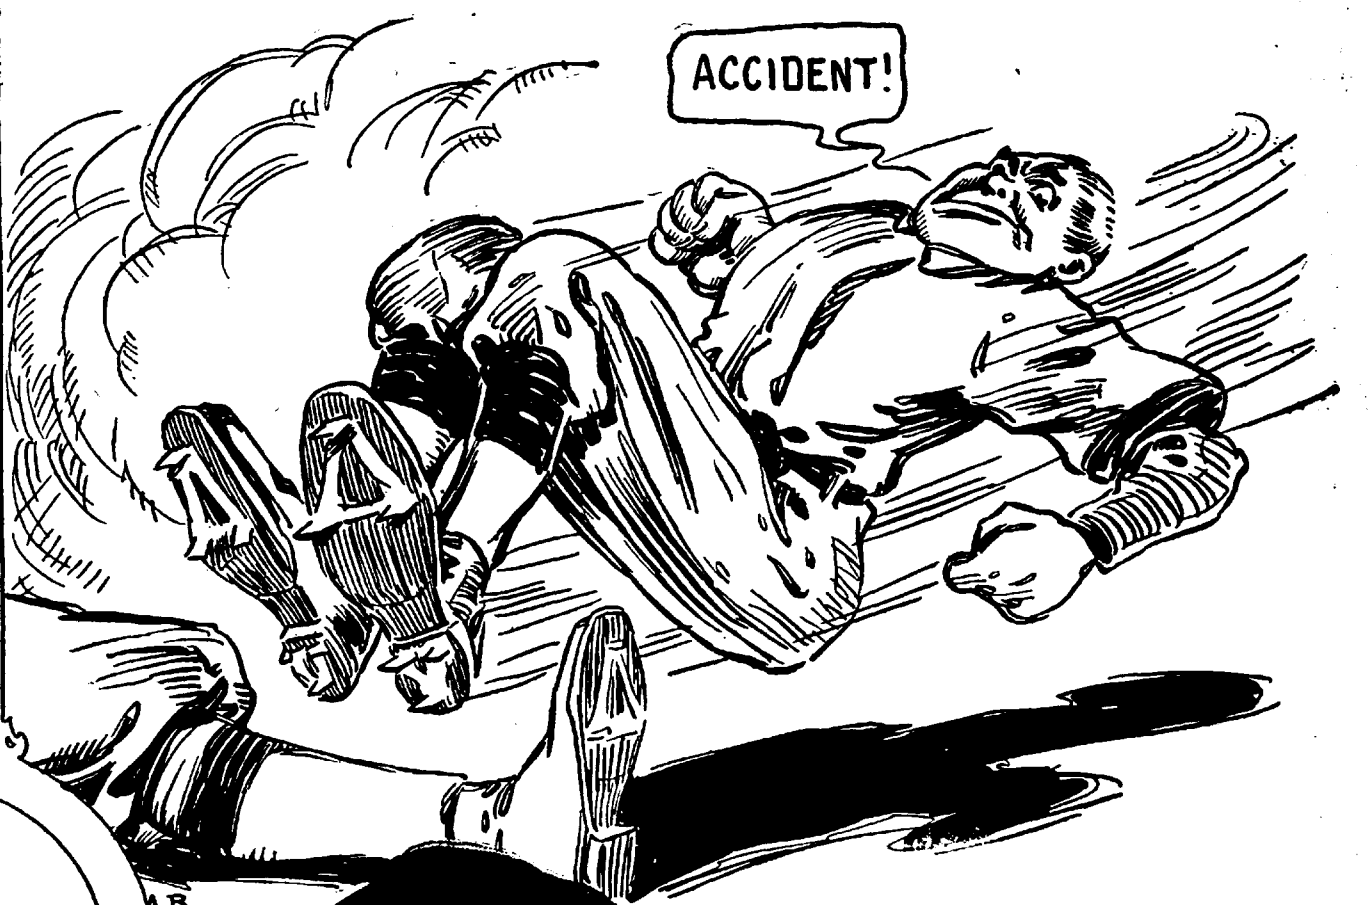

It is important to bear in mind that McGraw was not a great hitter, great fielder or great base runner. He did not make his reputation on hitting and fielding, as did his mates, Kelly, Keeler and Jennings, but on his ability to worry a pitcher by semi-illegal methods, a catcher by his quick wit, and the umpire by his quicker thinking and rapid-fire tongue and basemen by his uncompromising terrorism.

Some people call it aggressive base-

Poison in His Speech.

It is not so much what McGraw says as the manner in which he speaks and points his barb. Many other managers and players might say, without hurting anyone, things that when said by McGraw set the blood of the victim to the boiling point. McGraw puts poison into his speech. It is a trick the Irish have. Umpire Byron, who is of Irish extraction, too, barbed his words when he said in tones of scathing scorn: "They drove you out of Baltimore. They'll drive you out of baseball."

There is more truth than poetry in the statement that McGraw was driven from Baltimore. He left the town of his own accord, but the baseball folk there are bitter because they feel that McGraw, their idol of ten years' standing, "threw them down." It is doubtful that McGraw could be welcomed in Baltimore. He knows that. Byron knows it, too. Further, Byron being Irish, instinctively knew how to barb his words so that they stung McGraw beyond endurance. Only the Irish know how to sting the Irish. Had a German, Briton, Italian or man of any other nationality said the same words to McGraw, it is doubtful that the little Napoleon would have paid any attention to them. Byron put the Irish poison in them, and like the look given Lord Arthur Vargrave by the duc de Luvois, "They were meant to rankle and bite. And they bit and they rankled."

So McGraw took a swing at Byron and Byron swung at McGraw and they were having a lovely Irish time when a German named Schwab butted in, and Catcher Rariden swabbed up the ground with Schwab.

When two Irish are passing verbal poison back and forth, a German would better be in Northern France, taking a shower of the newest British flaming oil bombs, than attempt to play peacemaker between the fighting Fibrolegs.

Baseball fans are always lamenting the decay of the winning spirit, the life that the old Orioles put into baseball. McGraw, the much-maligned McGraw, is the very soul of that admirable furor, victory, or "rage for victory." In his passion for winning, for success, McGraw spares himself and his teammates little less than he spares umpires and opposing players. McGraw's love of proper play at baseball is so great and so intense that he despises all inefficiency, all malingering, all failure to give spectators the worth of their money. No fellow-player makes a bad play without feeling the fire of McGraw's scathing reproach. He never hesitated to make enemies in this way.

His Own Medicine.

Many of the men who played with him on the Baltimore team were never on speaking terms with McGraw. Jack Doyle, who played first base and took throws from McGraw for many years, never spoke to his third baseman. Doyle really wanted to play McGraw. The first baseman put a period to McGraw's active playing as soon as he got a chance to do so. The Baltimore team broke up in 1898. Doyle went to Philadelphia. McGraw to St. Louis. The first time Doyle got a good chance to slide into McGraw at third base he did so. Jack paid no attention to the bag, but jumped, spikes first, at McGraw, who was standing some distance off the line. Doyle caught McGraw at the knees and dislocated one of them. McGraw never did much good at third base again. His injured knee kept going out on him and he quit play forever the next season.

McGraw always was a gadfly to slow, stupid or selfish or cowardly players of his own or opposing teams. Whatever may be said of McGraw's method, it is certain that they have always operated to make games warm, interesting and hard fought.

It is remarkable, too, that while McGraw has been involved in innumerable fist fights, on and off the field, he has yet to emerge victor in any of them. Invariably he has been beaten because he was in his youth a small man and is now nothing more than a small man grown very fat. Nevertheless, he has never avoided combat. As far as his bulldozing anyone, well, he has fought with Umpire O'Day for twenty-five years and you never heard O'Day complaining, have you?

A searing flame on the field, McGraw is courteous and polite to an unusual degree, not often met with when he is in street clothes. His address is good, he is a splendid host, a charming dinner companion, a keen, well-informed mind, a delightful seatmate on a long train ride. Well read, well informed, John J. McGraw is: off the field, a very well bred gentleman.

DR. C. M. GOHEEN IS SUED FOR DIVORCE

His Wife Says He Has Failed to Properly Provide for Her.

Dr. Charles M. Goheen, who has figured in the limelight more or less conspicuously for several months, was made defendant in a divorce suit filed Wednesday in superior court by Mary C. Goheen. Mrs. Goheen is represented by Attorneys Hartzell & Todd.

Mrs. Goheen charges that her husband has failed to provide for her and that as a result she has had to make her own living. They were married June, 1880, and separated in May, 1915. It will be recalled that Dr. Goheen was recently defendant in a case tried at Bluffton on a charge of venue charging him with causing the deaths of two children on whom he had operated. The jury disagreed and it is understood there will be no further prosecution of the case. Mrs. Goheen lives at 2233 Lafayette street.

FAILED TO PROVIDE.

Florence Martz Also Says Her Husband Has Been Cruel.

Failure to provide and cruelty are charged in a complaint for divorce filed Wednesday in the superior court by Florence Martz, through her attorneys, Hartzell & Todd, against George E. Martz. The couple were married October 20, 1914, and separated July, 1916. Mrs. Martz lives at 1225 Putnam street.

Mrs. Martz says that her husband has been cruel to her in a manner that she does not care to state in her complaint. She also asks for an order restraining the Matlock Transfer company from paying to her husband his wages until disposed of by the court. The case also asks for the restoration of her maiden name of Florence Knight.

MANY WITNESSES

In Divorce Case of Viola Archibald Against John D. Archibald.

An unusually large number of witnesses for a divorce case were examined Wednesday in superior court in the action brought by Viola Archibald against John D. Archibald. The case was originally filed by Mrs. Archibald and soon afterward Archibald came back with a cross-complaint. The custody of their two children is the principal reason why the case is being so bitterly fought.

Mrs. Archibald charges her husband with associating with other women. He charges her in his cross-complaint with being peevish and possessing a most unbecoming temper. In addition to the custody of the two children, Mrs. Archibald is asking for $1,500 alimony.

ADJUTANT GENERAL TO GET DRAFT CARDS

Lists, Giving New Numbers,
Are Being Prepared by Clerk.

The revised list of Fort Wayne young men, subject to conscription call, is to be in the hands of the adjutant general of Indiana by the week end. Renumbering of the names and stamping of draft cards is almost completed after days and nights of labor on the part of the three conscription boards of the city.

Numbers which will be juggled in the human lottery are being made according to districts in the city. Numbers in the three sections of Fort Wayne run as high as 3061. In the least populated district there are 2,021 names. All over the United States the numbering will be according to conscription districts.

Mayor W. J. Hosey, who is taking an active part in the conscription scheme, will try to work out a plan whereby young men may be notified of their new numbers before the drawing is made at Washington. It is an endless task to hunt out the numbers as the names now stand, as the numbers were not placed to follow an alphabetical order of names.

WILL LOOSE GETZ.

Young Man Will Not Remain for Less Than $2,000.

Since Carl J. Getz, city forester, has stated that he will not consider remaining in the city employment for less than $2,000, he is to be given up, the city council virtually decided, Tuesday evening. The matter of meeting the demand for money for Getz was dropped for the time being which means that the appeal for the added wages will be lost.

Park Board Member Broyer made an address asking that Getz be kept even if his present salary had to be doubled. Broyer pointed out that a cheap man often proves very costly. Getz has proven his worth, Broyer stated.

The fact that there are several applicants for the place of park superintendent who will come for the present salary has caused council members to look unfavorably on the request for a marked increase in pay of Getz.

Will Out Corner.

Members of the board of works and City Engineer Randall fixed the lines for cutting the corner of Harman street and Maumee avenue, Wednesday morning. The intersection at the corner of Hayden park is to be cut back several yards because of the monument to be placed at that side of the city park. The curbing line will follow the arc of a circle made by taking a radius of fifty feet from the center of the Anthony Wayne monument. The part of the park ground to be given over for a street, will be paved at once.

Looks Like Battleship.

The interior of the central fire station is taking on the color of a newly completed man-of-war. The large hall and rear store rooms are being painted a sky blue. Four firemen have been wielding the large brushes and by Thursday noon the garb of color will have been completed.

Will Repair Sewer.

The damaged sewer at the southeast part of the city will be repaired at once by the Southern Surety company. Representative Smith, of the surety company, was in Fort Wayne Tuesday and decided that the bonding firm was liable for the damage. Work of making the repairs on the wrecked portion of the drain will start at once.

Storms Spread Ruin.

The battery of storms which visited Fort Wayne Monday, were found to have left a wake of ruin. Manholes along several city streets are found to be choked up with debris washed down the driveways by the rain torrents. Several street crossings have been underlaid in some cases bricks were washed away. Several men are repairing the damage.

Complete Intersections.

Paving of street intersections at Nuttman avenue, Beaver avenue and Indiana avenue have been completed by city workmen.

Birth Record.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Jackson, 1820 Hanna street—a son.

Contagion Report.

Vivian Lawhead, aged 14, 1727 Calhoun street, suffers from attack of diphtheria, health board has been notified.

Building Permits.

Summary of the Day's War News

Just as the Russians in the east have torn a big gap in the Austro-German lines in Galicia, captured Halicz and pressed on toward Lemberg, the Galician capital, the Germans on the western front have started a menacing offensive near the Belgian coast.

This movement, while it may turn out to be nothing but a local effort or something with which the British can cope after the shock of the first thrust has been met, nevertheless indicates the possibility of a determining attempt to break the British flank on the Belgian coast and reach the French city of Dunkirk, about seventeen miles distant.

The Germans succeeded in their initial push by leveling the defense through an intense bombardment for twenty-four hours and thereafter launching a series of attacks on the devastated ground. The bridges across the Yser were destroyed by the heavy fire and the sending up of reinforcements was found impossible. Thus a penetration 600 yards deep on a front of 1,400 yards was effected, the Germans pushing as far as the east bank of the Yser, near the North sea.

The attack also extended further south, opposite Lombartzde, but here, after having temporarily driven in British advanced line, a counter-attack forced the Germans back to their original position.

There have been no serious attempts by the Germans to break through the British front in Belgium since their ### two campaigns for Calais, in the early months of the war. The first was checked along the Belgian front by the combined British and Belgian defense, aided by the participation of British warships along the coast. In the second battle of Ypres, in the fall of 1914, the Germans sacrificed thousands of men in a terrific drive, but failed to effect a penetration.

Reports from London today indicate that the battle in Belgium is still in progress. The sounds of heavy firing, heard in England all day yesterday, were again heard today beginning at dawn.

In the sensational campaign which the revolutionary army of Russia is waging in Galicia, the capture of Halicz, important though it is, is only an incidental feature. Given secure possession of it, the Russians have the road to Lemberg well opened up to them and a continuation of their attacks on anything like the scale of the last ten days seems likely to result in the fall of the Galician capital at no distant date.

In capturing Halicz the Russians took more than thirty guns and numerous prisoners. The Russians, advancing their advance, pursuing the retreating Austro-German forces.

On the French front in northern France an attack was made by the Germans in the Woerwa district, near Flirey. They were ejected from a portion of the trench in which they temporarily gained a footing.

British naval air forces attacked the Turkish German fleet lying off Constantinople on Monday night and obtained hits on the Turkish cruiser Sultan Selim, formed the German cruiser Goeben, and other hostile warships nearby, causing explosions and fires on board.

Today's Russian official statement reveals clearly that the Russians besides advancing against Lemberg, also are carrying out a movement embodying a serious threat to the Austro-German front running south, through the Carpathians to the Moldavian mountain region.

The advance by the Russian armies on the Bogorodchan-Zolotiv front represents a drive into the Carpathian foothills.

Zolotiv (or Solotvina) is twenty-two miles southwest of Stanislaw and the front of the advance mentioned, running northwest to Bogorodchan, is twelve miles in length. Zolotiv is a bare twenty miles from the crest of the Carpathians along the Galician-Hungarian border. The available passes, however, lie chiefly some distance either west or southeast of this line.

Two thousand prisoners were taken by the Russians during the fight in Galicia yesterday.

Tell Your Wife Corns Lift Off

Doesn't hurt a bit to lift corns or calluses off with fingers.

Not a tringe of pain or soreness before applying, or afterwards. This may sound like a dream to corn-plagued men and women who have been cutting, filing and wearing torturous plasters. Yes! Corns lift out and callus peel off as if by magic.

A small bottle of freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store. Apply a few drops directly upon your tender corn or callus, and instantly the soreness disappears; then shortly the corn or callus will be so loose that it lifts off.

Freezone dries instantly. It doesn't eat out the corn or callus, but just shrivels it up so it lifts away without even irritating the surrounding skin. Women should keep a tiny bottle handy on the dresser and never let a corn or callus ache twice.

TOMORROW WILL BRING THE BIG SHOW AND THE BIG CROWD THAT ALWAYS COMES TO SEE THE RINGLING BROS. CIRCUS

Big Aggregation of Amusement Wonders, Always a Favorite in Fort Wayne, Will Roll in from Lima, Ohio, in the Early Hours—Pitch Tents in East End.

Tomorrow's the day—circus day—long heralded and impatiently awaited by the youth of Fort Wayne.

Many a youngster will go to bed tonight with the alarm clock set for an unearthly hour, to dream of a seat in the very front row with the prettiest bareback rider bedecked in silks and spangles, blowing him kisses while balancing on the back of a prancing horse. Or, maybe—if he ate that second piece of pie—he may dream of being chased down the street by the tigers and giraffes and things, all in command of the fat clown-politician.

But the sound of the alarm clock will dispel all such startling happenings and 4 a. m. promises to find a goodly gathering of both young and old in the yards of the Pennsylvania railroad.

For that is the hour local railway officials today figured the first Ringling Brothers' circus train will be "spotted." The first section will be closely followed by the remaining three trains until the entire aggregation of eighty-nine cars has reached this city. All will come from Lima, where the show is exhibiting today.

Unloading will begin the moment the first train, called the "flying squadron," comes to a standstill. Detachment after detachment of wild animals, horses and mysterious looking wagons and vans groaning with their loads of wonders will thread their way through the freight yards and over the highways to the circus grounds. Cattle of workmen will precede them on foot to make ready for the task of placing the mammoth kitchen and canvas dining rooms so that a hot breakfast may be served the remainder of the big circus family when it arrives. The entire commissary staff and equipment is carried on the first train as are most of the inhabitants of Ringling Brothers' 108 cage menagerie.

The second and third trains carry the physical equipment, such as the gigantic main tent canvas, scores of parade and tableaux wagons, car loads of wardrobe used in this season's new spectacle, "Cinderella," and still more required for the transportation of the immense stage, electrical and mechanical paraphernalia necessary for the great fairyland production. The fourth and last section is a solid vestibuled Pullman train on which travel the performers and executive staff. When the last of the eighty-nine cars has reached this city there will have been added to the local population 1,370 people, 1,008 wild animals, 41 elephants—captained by "Big Bingo," 35 camels, 735 horses and herds of giraffes, zebras and ostriches. It is said to be the largest tented enterprise ever placed on tour in America.

Throughout the early morning hours the work of erecting the tented city will progress until by 10 a. m. Ringlingville will be in readiness for the parade. The street pageant promises "three big miles of glittering glories." There will be scores of open stage exhibitions of the finest specimens from the menagerie, a great brigade of wise old elephants and baby pachyderms; blocks of gorgeous floats with strange foreign people riding in state atop them, and two callopes in the place of the usual lone steam piano. Many novelties promise to be in evidence, such as fourteen camels hitched four abreast to a great tableau wagon, zebra teams and, in addition to many other bands, a company of musicians mounted on horseback.

After the parade will come the opening of the side shows at the circus grounds. The performance in the "big top" will begin at 2 and 8 p. m. the doors opening at 1 and 7 o'clock so that all who choose may have ample time to become acquainted with the animals and listen to the promenade concerts played by the famous Ringling concert band.

From animal land the visitors will pass to fairyland, for this season the main tent program opens with "Cinderella." A cast of more than 1,000 actors tell the story of the maid of the chimney corner. The mammoth pantomime first introduces the valley of the far-away kingdom and the home of "Cinderella," after which the spectators are carried through the beautiful adventures of the fairy-favored heroine until the time when she recovers the glass slipper, wins the hand of Prince Charming and goes to live in the great palace. A ballet of 300 dancing girls, who play the role of fairy sprites, vast processions, hundreds of horses and costumes of a gorgeousness in keeping with the subject of the spectacle, are features of the production.

Following the fall of the curtain on "Cinderella" will come two hours of arena novelties presented by more than 400 foreign artists, including a host of equestrians and gymnasts never before seen in America. In addition there will be clowns—60 of them—three herds of trick elephants in cabaret scenes and a big revival of racing events. Added to this main tent program, and made a part of it, is a "circus within a circus," featuring an entire aggregation of dumb animal actors specially presented as a children's entertainment.

For the convenience of patrons a down town ticket office will be conducted all day tomorrow at the D. & N. pharmacy, 624 Calhoun street, where the same scale of prices will prevail as on the show grounds.

even though he was suspected, with reason, of being a secret revolutionist.

Covered the Retreat.

Next General Korniloff was an officer in the guards and being penniless he was obliged to serve in Turkestan.

In the Japanese war, he received the rank of colonel and was entrusted with a desperate mission—that of covering the retreat from Mukden of one of General Kuropatkin's shattered armies.

It was executed with such resolution and skill he was given the St. George cross.

Later he traveled all through Turkestan, the Caucasus and Europe, studying, observing and writing invaluable books on Turkestan and the countries of Central Asia.

Amazing to strangers is his gift for languages; for he speaks not only all European but also Persian, English and every dialect of Central Asia.

At the outbreak of the war he was in command of the Forty-eighth division, once called Suworoff's, now Korniloff's.

In Galicia in 1915 he repeated the Mukden feat, under an unexampled month-long hail of Austro-Hungarian German shells, wherein his own forces broke through the encircling foe, but he himself was wounded and taken prisoner by the Austrians.

Captivity Austrians.

The enemy press related that their generals were so impressed with General Korniloff's accomplishments and noble bearing that the return of his sword showed greater honor to Russia's admirable Crichton than to their own victorious commander.

His restless spirit did not long stand captivated. After a daring fight from an Austrian prison camp, an astonishing adventure, he reached Russia.

At the outbreak of the revolution he was invited to command the troops of Petrograd, implying full confidence in revolutionary Russia. When the disorders arose General Korniloff, fearing the necessity of repression, resigned, saying he would sooner shoot the foe than his own countrymen.

He took command of the eighth army, whose brilliant exploit is due primarily to him.

COAL CARDS IN BERLIN.

Copenhagen, July 11.—Coal cards have been introduced in Berlin in order to relieve the winter supply. Apartments with heated stoves will be limited to a quarter of a ton per room and a maximum of a ton and a half for more than five rooms. Steam heated houses will be limited to half of last year's supply.

FRENCH AIR RAIDER SAFE.

Paris, July 11.—Sergeant-Maj. Antion Paillard, one of the French aviators who participated in the bombardment last Friday of the Krupp factory at Essen, Germany, and who failed to return, has been found, landed safely in Holland.

NO BIG OFFENSIVE LIKELY.

Copenhagen, July 11.—Major Morant, military correspondent of the Deutsche Tages Zeitung, asks in a press article whether the moment has arrived for an offensive by Germany and concludes that for the present one is inadvisable. All Germany, he says, longs to hear the charging yell of the German armies in a big drive, but it is doubtful whether the necessary numerical superiority can be concentrated against any particular front to push an offensive through to real success.

Partial success, Major Morant says, is costly and useless and the general staff, therefore, is well advised in not attempting a big attack on the western front.

GERMAN ATTACK FAILS.

Paris, July 11.—The Germans made an attack last night in the Wever north of Fliery. Today's official statement says they were repulsed.

The statement follows:

"The artillery fighting was rather spirited north of Jouy, in the region of Sappignul and in the Champagne. We repulsed two surprise attacks on small posts. The enemy left prisoners in our hands."

"On the left bank of the Meuse (Verdun front) the artillery fighting continued to be very heavy in the sector of hill 304. In the Wever the Germans delivered an attack against our positions north of Fliery. After a severe combat the enemy was ejected entirely from part of a trench in which he had gained a footing."

members of the association. The surcharge is to be temporary only, it is said.

The commission just before noon continued for thirty days the hearing started this morning on a request of the association for permission to reduce the number of heat units in artificial gas. The continuance was granted after City Attorney Bond, of Richmond, representing municipalities objecting to the proposed reduction, raised the question of jurisdiction of the public service commission in the matter. He was given twenty days in which to file a brief supporting his point and the companies were given an additional ten days in which to answer.

The Indiana Gas association asked the authority to reduce from 600 British thermal units the present standard, to 550 heat units. Opposition to the request is being pushed by Indianapolis citizens and officials. The gas companies argued that the reduction could be made without interfering materially with the consumer, and thereby give the companies an opportunity to make a saving in their cost of production.

City Authorities Yield to Federal Request and Improve Upon It.

New York, July 11.—Beginning tonight all saloons in Hoboken, N. J., will close at 10 o'clock and remain closed until 6 in the morning. This action was taken by the city commissioners following a conference with Col. J. M. Carson, of the quarter-master's corps, U. S. A., who had previously made two efforts to have the bars closed during these hours at the saloons near the army piers. Today's order will include all of the 300 saloons in Hoboken.

During the eight hours when the bone dry order is in effect in Hoboken the police have been instructed to report all violations of the closing ordinance to the federal authorities.

before the committee without reaching any decision.

Chancellor's Terms of 1914.

Afternoon papers yesterday generally assumed that an agreement of all parties, except conservatives and extreme socialists had been reached by a joint declaration to the reichstag on peace terms and internal reforms.

This, it is said, would contain a reiteration of the chancellor's announcement of August, 1914, of Germany's purpose in the war was not conquest but defense and independence of territorial integrity, expressing a readiness to conclude peace on that basis with a provision rejecting all designs aiming at an economic boycott and continuance of international peace after the war.

The declaration, according to report, would also cover the formation of a coalition ministry with representatives of all parties, and immediate reform of the Prussian franchise.

The national liberals, however, at a meeting in the evening, rejected the peace part of the resolution and as the center had made their attitude conditional on national liberal assent the success of the movement is threatened.

The radicals, on the other hand, declined to concur in that part of the resolution dealing with internal reforms if this were on condition as the national wished, of Dr. Bethmann-Hollweg's retirement. The whole matter, therefore, is in doubt again.

One positive fact elicited by Erber's declaration is that he and other members of the main committee of the reichstag did not in the course of attacks on the admiralty and government suggest the abandonment of the submarine campaign.

MINISTERS WILL RETIRE.

Copenhagen, July 10.—(Delayed.)—A dispatch from Berlin to the Cologne Gazette says the retirement of Ministers Hefferich and Zimmermann will be gazetted Tuesday.

The Germania, of Berlin, declares that Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg, in committee, accepted the idea of Matthias Erzberger, the centrist leader, regarding a parliamentary declaration committing Germany to peace on the basis of the chancellor's declaration of August 4, 1914, by name, no annexations. The Tagliche Rundschau, on the contrary, is sure that Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg will retire if the declaration is adopted.

According to the Tageblatt, the crown council is reported to have developed an almost irreconcilable difference of opinion between Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg and the majority of Prussian ministers on questions of internal political reform.

CROWN COUNCIL SECRET.

Amsterdam, July 11.—Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg declined yesterday to make known to the reichstag main committee the proceedings in the session of the crown council on Monday regarding which there is much speculation within and without Germany. The committee then decided to adjourn. These events are described as follows in a semi-official statement issued yesterday in Berlin:

"The main committee of the reichstag met at 9 o'clock this morning. Friedrich Ebert (socialist leader), requested the chancellor, who was present, to give information in regard to what happened in the crown council yesterday, and if what took place there was necessary for further fruitful debate. The chancellor confirming the fact that the crown council had held a meeting, said he was unable as yet to make a statement in regard to the results of the deliberations. Herr Ebert then moved adjournment of the committee, which was agreed to."

TIME OF APPLICANTS

EXTENDED ONE DAY

Young Men Are Urged to Enter Second Officers' Training Camp.

Chairman E. H. Kilbourne, of the local committee of the officers' reserve corps, is being constantly urged by the central department of the training camp association to impress upon the public the need of men for the second camp which opens August 27 at Fort Benjamin Harrison. The time for applications has been extended one day, making the final day July 16. The committee is meeting at the Commercial club twice each day at 1 o'clock at noon, and at 7:30 in the evenings, and only a short time remains for the filing of applications. Ample opportunity still remains for young men who come within the conscription age to get into the second camp.

The following communication was received by Captain Kilbourne from the central department, Wednesday:

"Our country is a conspicuous example of force, progress and prosperity in all fields of human endeavor. This results from the liberty of thought and action which we all enjoy."

"The constitution guarantees that we are achieving success in peaceful pursuits do so because they have within them native ability which would make them equally successful in military life."

"Successful men must now give their knowledge and energy to the organization and direction of military force. For successful military leadership they should be specially trained in the officers' training camps."

"Millions of young men will soon be called to arms; they have a right to be led and directed by the best men of the country, and an appeal is made to men of this type to come forward and enter themselves for the officers' training camps before July 16—the last date for filing applications."

(Signed) T. H. BARRY.

"Major General U. S. Army."

Fred McCulloch, proprietor of the Minuet Electrical Supply store, and son of Charles H. McCulloch, who retired as president of the Hamilton National bank a few months ago, has filed his application for admittance to the second officers' reserve training camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison.

FOR TRENCH SERVICE

Mrs. Mary Reed, 818 East Washington street, was badly frightened Tuesday evening when a bullet crashed through the front window of her home and buried itself in the interior wall of the parlor. She called police.

The bullet is from a rifle, police state. It was fired a distance from the house. Some embryo soldiers, preparing for service "somewhere abroad" may have been shooting at a mark, in the gathering darkness, and missed his aim, is a theory.

WOULD HOLD COURT TWO DAYS A MONTH

Prosecutor Emrick Has a Plan to Speed Things
Along.

Prosecutor Frank A. Emrick has started a movement for the holding of circuit court two days out of each month during the summer vacation. He has never proposed an extra session during the summer season as was erroneously reported. The extra session would not answer the purpose as well as the holding of court two days out of each month, he says.

The plan has never been tried here. However, the courts were never so crowded as they are now. A third court, it is contended, could be used to advantage.

By holding court two days out of each month during the summer would do much in speeding along court procedure, in the opinion of Prosecutor Emrick and a number of attorneys who agree heartily with the plan.

"There will be no difficulties in securing markets for the staple and heavy selling lines, providing prices are low," said Mr. Hoover, "but if canners and jobbers persist in asking high prices, they will find retailers carrying these high cost goods on their shelves for succeeding years and a depressed market for canned products."

Rome, July 11.—About $10,000,000 will be used to organize American Red Cross hospitals and ambulances on the Italian front. This sum will be taken from a fund of $100,000,000 which American headquarters in Paris have at their disposal for Europe.

The American Red Cross units on the Italian front depend on an American commissioner in Rome, who represents the Far East headquarters.

Prof. Jesse Benedict Carter, director of the American Red Cross, is making arrangements to have a splendid set of the academy on a hill of Janciculum hill transformed into a home for American convalescents. It is an ideal spot for recuperation.

FARMERS WARNED NOT TO BUY FROM AGENTS

M. Douglas, of State Defense League, Speaks at Garrett.

[Special to The Sentinel.]

Garrett, Ind., July 11.—M. Douglas, of the Indiana state defense league, delivered an address to the farmers of this locality Tuesday afternoon in the assembly room of the city hall. He lectured especially on the stock food subject and warned the farmers against buying any preparation of the agents that are traveling through the country at present, as many of these foods have been found to contain hog cholera germs. Court plaster, which is being sold by agents also, has been found to contain leprosy germs and lecturers are going all over the country warning people against buying any of these things. Mr. Douglas is a Purdue university man and a successful farmer.

Owen Grubb, whose death occurred at Richmond, Ind., July 7, was brought to this city yesterday for funeral and burial. The services were held at the Mount Pleasant church and interment was made at the adjoining cemetery. Death was due to Psychosis.

The first number of the community lecture course was given Tuesday afternoon to a good-sized and appreciative audience. The Wilbur Starr Concert company were the first attraction. Dr. Miles delivered an excellent lecture Tuesday evening. The Junior chautauque opened this morning and the tickets are being disposed of rapidly. On Saturday evening the juniors will give a little play, entitled "A Night at the Fairy Carnival." Miss Marjorie Allen is the junior supervisor.

WILL GIVE $1,000 MORE

City Council Will Appropriate Additional Fund for Food Drive.

1,157 VACANT LOTS UNDER CULTIVATION

South Wayne Avenue Car Line May Be Extended to Rudisill Boulevard.

Another $1,000 is to be spent on the culture of Fort Wayne food relief gardens. The city council is expected to act on the matter at its next meeting. The resolution asking the appropriation was referred to the finance committee of the council at the Tuesday night meeting.

Frank Hilgemann, head of the Fort Wayne food raising effort, made a brief address before the council body. He explained that at least 1,157 vacant lots are under cultivation in the city and 163 are tracts. From the first $1,000 donated by the city through the council, 436 lots and 112 acre tracts were plowed by the city teamsters.

The second $1,000 is needed at once, Hilgemann appealed. The food relief organization is now $10 in debt. Money formerly appropriated has been used for buying farming implements, paying plowmen and other food relief workers. Mr. Hilgemann is anxious that the work be carried on this fall and that plowing be made for next spring.

There is no doubt but what the second $1,000 will be given as soon as possible for the food gardens. Action was not taken Tuesday evening because proper course had not been taken in securing approval of City Controller Baude before the meeting.

Decide for Sidewalks. Sidewalks will be built on Killea street from Webster to Calhoun over the remnant of the residents of that neighborhood and the vote of Peter Orfendick, representing the Seventh ward. The improvement is considered a public necessity by the majority of council members.

The committee on streets and alleys, made up of Councilmen Orfendick, Korte and Johns reported unfavorably on the petition for installing walks along Killea street. An immediate vote was taken by the council. All members but Korte and Orfendick voted for the improvement.

Want Car Line Extension. Two petitions asking that South Wayne street be paved from Organ avenue to Rudisill boulevard were presented by Councilman J. E. Mills. The proposed improvement had been turned down by the board of works because two of the three property owners living on South Wayne street, in the affected territory, had remonstrated against the paving.

Councilman Mills explained that the paving is wanted in order to gain an extension of the street car line. Mills has been promised, he said, that the line will be run as far as paving is laid. The new pavement will secure six more squares of needed car line, Mills stated.

The matter was referred to the committee on streets and alleys.

Schroeder by President. Louis S. C. Schroeder, former president of the council, attended the Tuesday night session. He was invited to take a seat by the side of President Eayer. Smiling Schroeder mounted the raised platform and settled himself at the right of the presiding officer. Other councilmen, who recalled the denunciation of Councilman Korte two weeks ago, when Schroeder interposed remarks on the Killea street matter, also smiled.

To Have Kickers' Meet. President Eayer announced that there will be a "kickers' meeting" of the committee of the whole next Tuesday evening, to take up the matter of the proposed industrial track, between Holman and Montgomery streets, from the Pennsylvania railroad to Barr street. G. F. Rogge, head of the committee on contract, and franchisees, had asked for the special session.

The matter of the proposed track has been the subject of a sharp clash before the board of works. A part of the residents along the way to be affected by the track are as bitterly opposed to the short line as others are enthusiastic for its installation. People living on Montgomery street say that their property would be ruined by the placing of a railroad track behind their homes. Others who own property along the right of way believe that the value of their land would be enhanced.

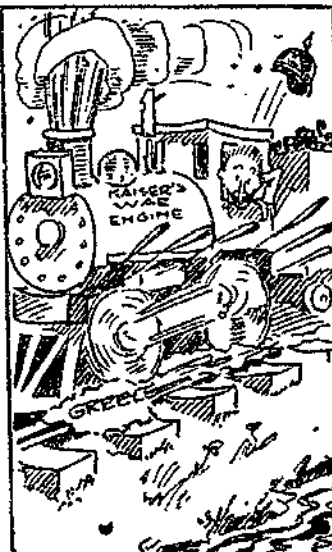

The track would run through the heart of what is the most thickly settled colored district of the city. It would cause the negro population to seek another location in the city, it is argued. This line of reasoning is used both for and against the proposed track.

SMALL BIRD DETECTS THE COMING OF GAS

Canary to Be Life Saver for the U. S. Troops in France.

Washington, D. C., July 11.—Engineers in the bureau of mines and of chemistry are perfecting devices and

Mine rescue worker carrying canary into mine, showing how soldiers use the bird to detect gases in trenches.

completing plans to nullify the deadly effects of German gas bombs in the trenches. Besides making destructive machines, intended to fight Germans with their own weapons, these engineers are planning preventives to save our soldiers, who will soon be fighting alongside the French and British.

Miners have been using canaries to detect gases below the earth's surface. Their experiences with this bird have been so successful, military engineers have adopted the mining method for the trenches. The best use found for the bird is in advancing toward the enemy.

Just off the front line trenches are sapping galleries dug out in advance of the fighters. Being nearer to the enemy, they are likely to be filled with the carbon monoxide gases of exploded bombs or the remains of the enemy's poison gases.

A squad of sappers, with gas masks ready, work their way ahead, the front man holding up a cage with a canary perched on the cross bar. Only four-tenths of gas is necessary to suffocate the bird. It falls off its perch and is sent back to be resuscitated and held for further use. The sappers put on their gas masks and continue their slow advance.

The little yellow breasted bird is also invaluable for detecting the approach of gas blown across from the enemy's trenches. Before the men know gas is coming the canary suddenly keels off its perch, the signal for donning gas masks.

STRIKE AT BREWERY PEACEFULLY SETTLED

Fourteen Men Are "Let Go" as Result of Night Walk-Out.

All is peace about the Berghoff brewery, where the stentorian voices of fifty strikers broke the stillness, at midnight, Tuesday. The disturbance, which police were called to quell, has been settled by a settlement of differences between men employed in the bottling department and brewery managers.

Fourteen workmen have been released from employment as result of the disturbance, when seventy men asked for more pay. The remainder of the number have returned quietly to work. The reason given for discharging the fourteen members of the striking band is that they have been engaged in trouble before and are considered inefficient. Their places have been taken by other men.

Two non-union men, named Fetterman and Craig, are charged with agitating the walk out. They obtained the signatures of seventy men on a petition demanding higher wages. Managers of the brewery state that the two men misrepresented conditions to their employees.

Lowest rate in the bottling department is 29 cents an hour. Wages as high as 40 cents are paid. An increase of two cents, all along the line, is said to have been asked.

When Foreman A. Henschen refused to grant the demands of Fetterman and Craig, Tuesday night, the other signers of the petition were induced to walk out. The band of workmen were clamorous as they assembled before the brewery. Police were called. The men were sent to their homes. On Wednesday most of them returned to work at their former salaries.

The Scottish word tartan is supposed to have been taken from the Spanish and French "tire taine"; in Spanish this means something thin and flimsy, from "tirar," to shiver with the cold. In French, the term "tire taine" is applied to the mingled fibers of linen and wool, which is called sometimes linsey-woolsey.

the majority favored the holding of a majority of the town, will hold a meeting soon with his executive committee and the lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, smoothen and beautifier.

Just try it. Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant dainty lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin. It is simply marvelous to smoothen

THE GOULD BOYS AND THEIR BRIDES.

Gould was Annunziata Camilla Maria Lucci, an Italian governess for Vivien Gould, now Lady Decies. She afterward studied art, and is an accomplished linguist, as is Kingdom. Mrs. George Gould, Jr., was Laura M. Carter, an orphan, lived on the farm of her uncle, E. J. Callahan, at Arden, N. J., and afterward became a Boston dancing teacher, giving exhibition dances at the Copley-Plaza with her partner, Zenas Crocker.

sons, and have lived happily ever since.

This can't be said of all the elder
George's brothers and sisters.

Frank Gould married Margaret Kelly, whose sister, Eugenia, is the wife of "Al" Davis, tango dancer.
Frank's two children are cared for by his sister, Helen, who late in life married Finley J. Sheppard. Margaret, divorced, married afterward one Ralph Hill Thomas, and is now the wife of an Albanian prince. Frank's second wife is Edith Kelly, another relative of his first.

Howard Gould, another brother, married Katherine Clemens, actress, from whom he is divorced. He is now said to be worshipping another American actress who has been very popular in London for four years. A sister of Katherine Clemens is the wife of a San Francisco Chinaman.
Edwin Gould married Sarah Sarady. They have two children; but

AN INTERNATIONAL FAMILY.
"Town Topics," weekly journal of New York society, in its current issue publishes this "vorse" on the marital affairs of the Goulds—written, of course, before George's marriage:
Oh, tell me, where will next the Goulds their various helpmeets seek;
It seems that through the length and breadth of this old earth they trek;
From Albion they've called one mate, Hallowell of this old earth they trek;
Fair Gaul has furnished one or two, some U. S. A. old mother.
Now Kingdom to old Italy has turned to find his spouse?
I wonder how these various bloods will mitigate this house?
Profoundly thankful we should be to see this newest heaven.
The photographs that hence appear will seem a page from heaven.

It is not recorded that the marriage was a happy one.

Anna Gould's love affairs furnished newspaper copy for a decade. Her first romance was with Harry Woodruff, actor, who was sent to Harvard by Brother George, who said to himself: "Anna's 'equal'." But before Harvard polished Harry, Anna's heart was won by Count Boni de Castellane, whom she married in 1895. They had three children before their divorce in 1906. She then married the Duke de Talleyrand, Boni's cousin, by whom she has two children.

Helen Gould, at 45, married Finley
Sheppard. They have adopted children.
The Gould boys just married have four sisters and a brother.
The brother, Jay Gould, married in 1911 Annie Douglas Graham, who is part Hawaiian. Among the guests at their wedding was Princess Kawana-naka, of Hawaii.

Vivian Gould's marriage to Lord
Decies, an Englishman, was a big social event in 1911. They have three children. The name of Lord Decies' brother has been connected with Kitty
Gordon, actress famed for her back.
Majorie Gould's marriage to "Tony",
Drexel, of Philadelphia, in 1910, has often been reported as unhappy. They have three children.
The other daughters are Edith, 16, and Gloria, 11.

Edwin Gould, Jr., a cousin of the latest bridegrooms, was killed by the accidental discharge of a gun in Georgia recently.

The recent weddings were not attended by the parents of the Gould boys, or any others of the family, except George, Jr., who was at Kingdom's wedding.

LODGE OF MOOSE IN PATRIOTIC MOVE

Resolve to Care for Dependents of Members in Army Service.

Fort Wayne lodge, No. 230, Loyal Order of Moose, has drawn up resolutions looking toward the care of dependents of members who have enlisted in any branch of army service. The resolutions authorize the lodge to assume and pay the dues of any member who is engaged in active service. Each member will be assessed fifty cents per year, payable semi-annually, such assessment to constitute a "patriotic fund," to be placed at the disposal of the executive board, to be used, if necessary, in helping to support those dependent upon any brother actively engaged in his country's cause, and that in event of his death, while in such service, the lodge be and is authorized to pay from such fund to his widow or minor children such sum as in its judgment may seem proper.

Wayne Circle Meets.
At its regular meeting Tuesday night Wayne circle, Ladies of the G. A. R., held a reception for Dr. J. W. Squires, who was recently appointed captain of surgeons in the United States army. Dr. Squires gave a talk on the war. Three candidates were initiated, Miss Frieda Koenig, Mrs. C. E. Crum and Mrs. O. B. Crum. Arrangements were made for holding flag services over the remains of Dr. Null, at New Haven. The ladies will meet at 2 o'clock at the home of Ed C. Close, 602 East Washington street, and attend the funeral in a body. It was also decided to hold a party at the home of Mrs. Nellie Vought, of Wells street, on July 17.

Booster Club to Meet.
The Booster club of the Fort Wayne chapter of the American Insurance union, met Tuesday night at the home of W. O. Rayburn, and completed arrangements for a public initiation of a class on July 27.

BIG CHAUTAUQUA AT CHURUBUSCO STARTS

Avery M. Groves is Principal Speaker at Opening Exercises.

Churubusco, Ind., July 11.—Churubusco opened its community chautauqua here today with a monster patriotic demonstration, during which a flag was raised in front of the town hall. Avery M. Groves, a newspaper man of Fort Wayne, delivered the address.

In part, Mr. Groves said: "The first war in which this country was engaged was the revolutionary war. In that conflict, the American people fought not for conquest, not for territory, but they fought to let the world know that the thirteen original states were able to govern themselves, that they were able to mould their own laws, dictate their own policies and protect their own subjects. And then we fought the war of 1812, the Mexican war and the war of 1861-65. I need not say here in the presence of so many veterans of the civil war that they carried the stars and stripes to a glorious victory, because that is still fresh in their memories. All of us love the flag of our country, but no one loves it so well as those who have followed it on the field of battle; amid the ringing of shot and shell and the roaring of the guns. In the war of 1898, the American nation not only freed the republic of Cuba, but it again proved to the world that our people love liberty, righteousness and justice and that they are willing to fight for it."

"Today we are engaged in a mighty struggle for freedom and democracy. And the men who go forth to battle in this war, will bring the old flag back victorious and when the conflict is ended they will wave the stars and stripes so high they can be read in majestic glory around the world. "History this year is repeating itself. In 1860, when the worst crisis in the nation's history came, the American people rallied under the American flag and stood by Abraham Lincoln. And, today, the sons and grandsons of those same men, will rally under the same flag and under the same conditions and stand by Woodrow Wilson in his efforts to preserve liberty and human justice."

CITIES ORGANIZE TO HOLD CHEAP LIGHT

Officials at Shelbyville Meeting Take Steps to Resist Utilities.

Shelbyville, Ind., July 11.—Batesville, Columbus, Connerville, Frankfort, Franklin, Martinsville, Noblesville, Seymour, Tipton, Mt. Vernon, North Vernon, Winchester, Huntington, Bloomington, Goshen, Richmond and Logansport formed an association here last evening for the purpose of combatting the attempts of the public service companies of the state to raise their rates for electric light and power 50 per cent and to lower the heating quality of their gas, as sought by these corporations through petitions that have been filed with the public service commission of Indiana. Officers of the association chosen are: Chairman, Mayor John A. Ross, Seymour; vice chairman, C. E. Barnaby, Columbus; secretary, Carroll R. Woods, Shelbyville; treasurer, Mayor Samuel Spohn, Goshen. These officials will make the rules and regulations for the association and the next meeting will be on call of the chairman.

Attorneys to Be Employed.
As its first immediate business, the association named former Mayor Fieble of Logansport, Alfred Davis of Richmond and Mayor Spohn as a committee to retain legal counsel to represent the cities jointly in the fight to be waged, and these three men, with City Attorney William A. Bond of Richmond and Mayor Ross of Seymour, will represent the cities before the state commission today in connection with the hearing on the gas petition.

Before the cities proceeded to perfect the organization, the fifty men who had assembled listened to a lengthy address from William M. Pickens, Indianapolis corporation counsel, in which he set forth that the cities must organize, because the utilities are powerfully organized to bring about the ends they are seeking. On the gas proposal, Mr. Pickens suggested that one might as well thin maple sirup and try to convince the purchaser he was getting as much food value, as to allow the lowering of the thermal units in gas and insist that it would give just as good service. He made other remarks that were not complimentary to the utilities and said investors in utilities stock have the surest thing there is.

WILLARD SMITH IS HEAD.

The Fisher Brothers Paper company yesterday made the announcement that Willard Z. Smith, of Churubusco, had accepted the position as head of the accounting department of that company. Mr. Smith is one of the best known business men of this part of the state, having served as postmaster of Churubusco for seven years. Prior to that time he was in the hardware business. He is well known here, having been a non-resident member of the Commercial club for many years. He will move his family here later.

New York, July 11.—No man can possibly tell whether one style of woman's fall apparel is a coat or a dress. Advance fall designs are perhaps less confusing than summer models because they are less draped, and more severely tailored.
One of the most attractive of coat dresses for fall is distinguished by a graceful skirt arrangement of side plaits.

Miller—Weaver.

Miss Grace Weaver, daughter of Mrs. Mary Weaver, of Anderson avenue, and Mr. George Miller, a son of Mrs. Mary Miller, of Green street, were married in St. Peter's church on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, with Rev. Father Dapp officiating at the nuptial mass. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ehringer were the attendants. The bride looked very attractive in a pretty gown of white tulle with a combination of georgette crepe and trimming of gold braids. The bride wore a veil that fell the length of her dress and she carried a bouquet of white roses and swansonia. The matron of honor wore a beautiful gray crepe de chine gown, a hat to correspond, trimmed with pink roses and her flowers were pink roses. The wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home to immediate relatives, about thirty people in all. The house and bride's table were decorated with roses and ferns. The church was also decorated for the wedding with palms and baskets of daisies and other white flowers. In the afternoon the bride and groom left for Lake James for a few days and when they return they will make their home with the groom's mother, 1628 Green street. The bride wore a blue suit with gray hat, shoes and gloves for traveling. ### Larger Hats Appear as Days Grow Hotter

Hats for wear at the present time are usually small or medium in size, but the larger trimmed hats will certainly make their charming appearance as the hotter days approach, and Old Sol's rays threaten feminine complexions.

As the hats widen they will assume a much flatter outline. Some designers have shown the Watteau shepherdess hat for summer, that having the very bewitching turn-up back.

The hats of the moment are more or less military in character and are extremely simple, often depending upon color for richness and ornament. The high Russian lines are quite popular.

Some very new shapes have Watteau pleated brims, and high peaked brim effects, smooth or elaborately rippled.

A Napoleon hat is very smart, but is trying to a woman who has not decided beauty.

A new tricorn has a flare in the back, the flare sometimes ornamented with a feather that heightens the entire hat in effect considerably.

Some of the best motif designs are in oval shape, finished with tassels, fringes or carrying decorations. Flower crowns are expected to be popular for the summer hats.

CONVENIENT AND A TIME SAVER.

A most convenient contrivance for the woman who does her own sewing is the spool rod, placed in some handy place in her sewing room. This rod, which may be simply a curtain rod, allows the spools of thread and darn cotton to be slipped over it where they are always in full view, and easily secured. If one does not have a sewing room, it may be fastened on the inside of the cover of a shirt waist box in the bed room, or in the cover of the window seat in the living room. Anywhere it is convenient and save much time.

The present British parliament has lived longer than any of its twenty-nine predecessors since the act of union.

Gay Colors Feature New Styles in Sports

In general, delicate shades and dainty patterns have vanished from sport costumes. It's a splash of brilliant color today and the most daring of designs. Gone are the sprays of rosebuds and sprigs of forget-me-nots. Instead, we have big dots, wide stripes, bold checks and curious Chinese, Japanese and Egyptian symbols. The sheers of crepes flaunt a design that used to be thought suitable only for a sport fabric.

Shantung, so fashionable, is striped in the loudest of colors or shows a big embroidered dot. The crinkled khaki kool, not satisfied with its last season's beauty, now shows a jacquard design or the widest of fancy stripes.

There are cottons with a crepe weave and cottons and tussahs combined, splashed with dots in colors that fairly dazzle the unprotected eye. Circles, both on cottons and silks, are favorite designs. A white khaki kool shows citron colored dots, and in these dots are circles of Chinese blue or steel gray.

GREAT CARE NECESSARY IN CANNING VEGETABLES

Vegetables have always been difficult to can successfully. Sometimes salt is used in sufficient quantities to act as a preservative. This makes the product too salty to be pleasing in eating. Canning compounds of various sorts are sometimes added. These are compounds composed of substances injurious to health and should not be used.

There are no acids in vegetables such as are found in fruit to assist in preserving them; the many vegetables such as corn, peas and beans contain substances which furnish excellent food for the growth of bacteria. These are some of the reasons for special care being taken if success would always result.

Any type of either glass or tin can that can be sealed air tight when hot may be used in canning. This would eliminate the sealing waxed tin can of course. For ordinary home use, glass

USEFUL HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

An effective hard water softener is oatmeal.

Vinegar is excellent for moistening and softening glue.

Dip new brooms in hot soap suds. This makes them tough and flexible.

Tins can be made silver bright by rubbing with soda and old paper.

After the dust is wiped off a mirror a little camphor will brighten it.

Obstinate whitewash stains may be quickly removed with a little hot vinegar.

Tea and coffee stains are easily removed from cups, rubbing with damp soda.

A piece of alum kept in the silver drawer will prevent the silver from tarnishing.

Clothes that must be ironed in a short time must be sprinkled with very hot water.

If the cream for whipping or for berries is slightly soured it can be used if a pinch of soda is beaten in.

A spoonful of soda in a basin of warm water will thoroughly clean hair brushes and combs. Rinse in clear water.

HELPFUL HINTS FOR THE BUSY.

If ribbons or ties become crumpled, they may be made as flat and straight as can be in just a few minutes of time, if you will dampen them, and then wind them smoothly and tightly around a lighted electric light bulb.

In using a high ladder on polished floors to prevent its slipping, put beneath it two pieces of sand paper, glued together. This will give a grip alike on the ladder and on the floor, and prevent slipping.

If you would soften the water in a new cistern, paint the walls with water glass, applying with a brush as paint, and you will be surprised at the big difference it will make with the softness of the water.

In washing a crepe de chine waist of delicate shade, you will be enabled to retain the delicate shading if you will put into the water which is used for rinsing a piece of crepe paper of the same shade. This will tint the water, and retain the shade in the waist.

RIBBONS NOT FOR WOMAN WITH LIMITED PURSE

Lingerie and negligees of ribbon offer unique designs. We can not recommend these treasures to the lady who must needs practice dress economy. They are expensive and perishable, but they are interesting. Who would have anything wear forever, except one's hair?

A united petticoat and camisole of white tulle shows silver ribbons running up and down and round about, forming latticed effects. A negligee has skirt and jacket made of wide ribbons—plain and patterned—stitched together, and also cut as to form vandykes, all of which is flowerlike and dainty. A clever way of utilizing ribbons is to have one form a plain panel going up and down, with puffed liberty satin ribbon placed between. Skirt and corsage may both be arranged this way with excellent results.

MODIFIED JOCKEY CAP.

BY BETTY BROWN.

Woman manages to do strange things to man's fashions when she takes them for her own. Give her the trice of a jockey cap, and she enlarges it, befrills it and tags it with ribbon. Then does it and becomes bewitching. This is a brand new idea in sports hats—for girls only—matrons would better stick to Panamas.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

WOMEN WORRIED.

Report That They Must Pay Poll Tax Causes Excitement.

Huntington, Ind., July 11.—Huntington county women, especially those in the rural districts, were worried Monday when a report became current that the women who registered would have to pay a $2 poll tax. Some women refused to register on the strength of the report, the source of which is unknown. Some persons say the report was started as a joke, but the women leaders think it is part of a propaganda to discourage the women voters. Some men who registered inquired whether they would be liable for military service if they signed the applications.

HUNTINGTON BRIEFS.

Huntington, July 11.—The county

exemption board completed its task of renumbering men of military age in Huntington county Saturday. The library board has voted to add in the establishment of a library of 10,000 volumes at Ft. Benjamin Harrison. Omer C. Deeds, a plumber, who has been working at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, came home Saturday and found that his two oldest sons had enlisted in Company C, I. N. G., of Huntington. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Spencer have received word that their son, Donovan Spencer, of the United States regulars, has been chosen for the recruiting service. Eighteen men, some of them well past the maximum draft age, have filed applications for admission to the second officers' training camp at Ft. Benjamin Harrison. William Baker, age three, almost bit his tongue off when he tripped over a toy wagon and fell, striking his chin. A physician sewed the two pieces together. Five thousand women were listed in the poll taken by the Equal Franchise league. The workers urged women to register and obtained data in regard to the ability to do special war work. Jonathan Shroyer, age eighty-two, of near Roost, is doing his bit to win the war by cultivating corn. He works every day on his farm.

REGISTRATION SLOW.

Hartford City, Ind., July 11.—Little more than 10 per cent of the total number of voters who should qualify to take part in the election for the selection of delegates to the constitutional convention in September, have made out their blanks here up to this time. The total number to register is 878. The board has been in session fourteen days and will continue in session until August 20. A mistaken impression that men do not have to register seems to prevail in Blackford county.

ACCIDENTS AT STROH.

Stroh, Ind., July 11.—Dewey, the 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Wilson, while playing in the road near his home, became tired and lay down on the side of the road to rest. He fell asleep with his legs protruding into the roadway. An automobile passed over the boy's legs, badly injuring them. Fred Rollison, an engineer, was seriously bruised about the legs and hips when a car loaded with mail at the Wabash-Portland cement plant crashed into the cab of his engine.

YOUTH ATTACKS GIRLS.

Kendallville, Ind., July 11.—Percy Knowles, 15 years old, is under arrest, charged with assaulting Catherine Duwahan, 8-years-old daughter of Chief of Police Horvath, of this city, and Catherine Horvath, 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Horvath, late yesterday afternoon across the lake. For a time it was feared the young man would be lynched. He has made full confession and this morning was bound over to the circuit court.

REV. W. F. COOK DEAD.

Warsaw, Ind., July 11.—The Rev. William F. Cook, age sixty-five, who was born and reared in Warsaw, died Saturday at San Francisco. He was a graduate of DePaul and Boston universities, and did research work at the British museum, in London. He was a member of the North Indiana conference of the Protestant Episcopal church. He served two years as a bishop.

SENATOR MUNTON NAMED.

Kendallville, Ind., July 11.—Senator C. J. Munton has been appointed county superintendent by the council of defense of the boys' working reserve which will be organized in Noble county within a short time. The principal object will be to line them up for industrial and agricultural service, to take the place of the men who are called to the battlefield.

COUNTY LOSES $3,000.

Anburn, Ind., July 11.—Although Dekalb county paid into the state treasury $18,496.14 for the support of the public schools of the State of Indiana, the county only receives back as its share of the school funds $15,343.99, losing over $3,000 in the state apportionment of school funds.

TOOTHPICK REMOVED FROM ARM.

Warsaw, Ind., July 11.—A toothpick nearly two inches long was removed by local physicians from the arm of Mamie Edgington, age fifteen. The piece of wood had been imbedded in the flesh more than a year. How it got there is not known.

PIECE OF WRECKED ZEPPELIN.

Hartford City, Ind., July 11.—A piece of the German Zeppelin L-21, which was shot down at Cuffey, England on the night of September 2, is on display in a store window here. The relic was sent to a shoe dealer here by his brother.

KICKED BY HORSE.

Kendallville, Ind., July 11.—Gerald Tidwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Tidwell, was painfully injured last evening when he was kicked by a horse on his parents' farm, near this city. Eleven stitches were required to close the wound inflicted on his head.

CONTRACT REFUSED.

CUP OF CHOCOLATE.

There is an art in making chocolate that comparatively few attain. After trying this it's bound to bring success. For each cup of milk allow heaping teaspoonful of shaved chocolate, one (or more) of sugar, an infinitesimal bit of salt and one-fourth teaspoonful of cinnamon (ground). Boil the chocolate, sugar and salt with a little water until smooth, then add the milk, dropping in the cinnamon encased in a small bag. Let boil well; when done stir in one drop of vanilla to each cupful. Chocolate is really better, or at its best, when made some time before it is to be used and then reheated.

BAD LUCK ON TRAIL

Trader's Family Suffers Woe Since Father is Held.

DANIEL'S TRIAL NEXT WEDNESDAY

Bullet May Not Be Taken from Head of Schell Youth.

The bullet which struck Alfred Schell, 18, on Sunday night, July 1, started a trail of bad luck for the family of Franklin Lewis Daniels, horse trader, accused of firing the shot which wounded the youth.

One of the ten horses in the trader's camp has died of lockjaw since Daniels has been incarcerated on an attempted murder charge. Another of the animals is injured from being kicked by another horse. The family is almost destitute and on Wednesday morning the wife faced suit in the city court because she has moved the gypsy camp inside the city limits, in order to be nearer the husband.

Attorney Stephen Callahan, representing Daniels, made a heated plea in the city court Wednesday morning that the trial of the father be held at once. The attorney stated that he had visited the St. Joseph hospital and had talked with the Schell youth. The boy is able and willing to testify in court at this time, Callahan argued.

The attorney for the defendant attacked the second reason held by the state for a continuance, which is that only Schell knows of the shooting. Callahan argued that all of the young men in the speeding automobile, on the night Schell was shot, knew as much about the shooting as Schell does.

Deputy Prosecutor Hoffman explained that Dr. J. Frank Dinnen has ordered that the lad be kept in the hospital for a week, even though the boy is now able to walk about the corridors of the hospital. Hoffman also set out that only Schell knows from whence the shot, which buried itself in his head, was fired.

Alfred Schell states that he leaned out of the automobile and craned his neck to look at the trader's camp on the Sunday night in question. There was a flash of fire from the center of the rear of the large covered wagon occupied by the Daniels family, Schell tells. Simultaneously there came a sharp pain through the youth's head, the boy says, according to Hoffman.

Continuance is Granted. Judge Kerr agreed to grant continuance of the case until next Wednesday, July 18. There was a sad parting as Daniels bid his family "good-bye" and was led out to the patrol wagon to be returned to jail.

An affidavit signed by Charles Boerger, and charging Mrs. Daniels with allowing a nuisance by keeping her camp of horses within the city limits, was read in court. The horses and the bright colored gypsy wagon are located in the south part of the city, south of Rudisill boulevard, between Webster and Harrison streets. The complaint alleged that there was an odor issuing from the camp.

Mrs. Daniels agreed to move the camp to another part of the city. She was given back the $8 which had been paid Boerger for the use of the land. The task of finding another location for the

MARIE MAYER HAS LOVE FOR AMERICA

Chautauqua Lecturer Had Leading Part in Passion Play.

Fraulein Marie Mayer, who appears at the big Fort Wayne Redpath chautauqua next week in a dramatic lecture on the great Passion Play of Oberammergau, has not been in this country long, but she has learned to love it dearly. "There is such opportunity for everyone here," she says. "It is not that way at home."

Fraulein Mayer was born in the little mountain valley Bavaria village of Oberammergau, where in 1910 she played the part of Mary Magdalene in the Passion Play. "To play this part," she says, "is the ambition of every daughter of our village. My own mother dreamed of playing this role, but another was chosen for the part. It was like a fulfillment of her own ambition when the Magdalene part was given to me."

Fraulein Mayer had intended speaking in her lecture on the condition of her people in the midst of a world war, but since America has been drawn into the world conflict she has not felt able to talk on this subject. She has a brother in the German army, and she loves America. She feels that she simply cannot say anything about the war.

In Jacksonville, Fla., where the chautauqua opened the season of 1917, two young American girls were receiving contributions for the Red Cross on the veranda of the big hotel. Fraulein Mayer was asked by them, as was every one else, to help the Red Cross work. "I will gladly give to help care for the brave American soldiers," she said in her quaint English, delighted because of just a touch of accent. "I am proud to help them." Later a picture was taken of Fraulein Mayer and the two southern girls, which the fraulein prizes highly.

Fraulein Mayer's lecture is marked by the wonderful dignity of her delivery. From the moment she steps upon the platform a profound stillness prevails. She has a reverential feeling about what she has to say, and this feeling permeates the whole audience. Her lecture is a simple story of the lives of these people who gave to the world the famous Passion Play. The people of Fort Wayne will be glad to hear this lecture by one who actually played a great role in the play. She does not tell of something she has simply seen or heard about; she tells of something which she herself took a prominent part.

family and horses will be taken up at once, Mrs. Daniels tearfully said.

Daniels stoutly denies firing on the auto party, which had been shooting firecrackers near his camp. He says he does not know who shot Schell.

Debate is being held as to whether the bullet shall be removed from the youth's head. Dr. Dinnen holds that it might prove fatal to probe for the lead ball. Certain other physicians state that they can safely remove the shot. Definite decision on this point is expected to be reached Wednesday evening. Meanwhile Alfred Schell continues to improve. He is able to leave his bed.

POLICE INVESTIGATE SAD AUTO ACCIDENT

Child Chasing Rubber Ball Struck and Severely Hurt.

Police have been told that Mrs. M. Zook, who lives at the corner of Woodland avenue and Calhoun street, has been driving an automobile at the rate of fifteen miles an hour and on the wrong side of the street when she struck Solie Rothberg, 11-year-old son of S. Rothberg, 1408 Calhoun street, Tuesday evening. The accident occurred on Douglas avenue just off of Calhoun.

The child darted from the curbing after a ball which had rolled into the street. He was knocked down by the auto and the machine ran completely over him. A severe cut was inflicted above his right eye and he suffered body bruises.

Mrs. Myrtle Morton, 125 Douglas avenue, was sitting on her front porch when the accident occurred in front of her home. She ran to the street and gathered the injured child in her arms. Mrs. Zook halted her machine for a minute and then drove away, police are told.

H. S. Clark, of the Pennsylvania office, who chanced to be passing, carried the child home. Dr. Rice, who was summoned, announces that the child will recover.

FOURTEEN MEN ENLIST HERE

Are Sent to Fort Thomas from the Local Office Tuesday Morning.

FIVE MEN SECURED FOR THE BATTERY

Signal Corps Program for the Week is Announced at Regular Drill.

Fourteen men were enlisted at the local recruiting station by Captain Thomas P. Ryan Tuesday. These men were sent to Fort Thomas Tuesday evening.

Bakers and cooks are still wanted in large numbers and the opportunities and privileges of this work are being emphasized to every experienced man. They will be needed to help feed the new national army which is soon to take the field and those who enlist first will have the first chance at promotion. The men receive pay of thirty dollars a month with all necessities and are never called upon to take up arms.

Five New Recruits.

Five new recruits were secured for Battery B, Tuesday evening, and there are eighteen awaiting physical examination. The list of new recruits follows: Charles A. Banius, 437 Fairmount place; Herbert F. Boroff, Stag hotel; Sherman B. Deaton, 925 Lake avenue; Lloyd Schaefer, 925 Lake avenue; and Clarence E. Ingram, 923 Edgewater avenue.

Members of the battery attended a noon-day meeting Wednesday at the plant of the Van Arman Manufacturing company. Short addresses urging recruiting were delivered by Judge Carl Yapple, Sergeant Hayes and Lieutenant Morlarity. At noon Thursday a meeting will be held at the Pennsylvania shops at Holman and Burr streets, with Fred Zollars and Captain Harry Clark as the speakers. On Friday evening a meeting will be held at New Haven with Attorney E. V. Harris as the principal speaker. The week's campaign will be closed with a meeting at the court house on Saturday evening, when time it is hoped that the full strength of 130 men will have been enrolled.

Word has been received that as soon as the battery has reached war strength it will be called.

Program for Week. At the regular weekly drill of Company B, Indiana Signal corps, held Tuesday night with Captain L. O. Knowlton in command, the program for the week was read. It is as follows: Wednesday, "telegraph school"; Thursday, lecture, "Buzzer"; Friday, written examination; Monday, telegraph school; Tuesday, regular drill.

Following drill Tuesday evening, the company was taken to headquarters and divided into the groups. Instructions were then given in paper work by Captain Knowlton, interior guard duty, by Lieutenant B. S. Hawkins, and saddles and horse equipment, by Lieutenant F. W. Kuhns. Each group received a twenty-minute lecture on each subject.

ITALIANS HAVE WARM WORDS FOR AMERICANS

Bordeaux, July 11.—The prince of Udine, who with the other members of the Italian mission to the United States has arrived in France, said today to a representative of the France de Bordeaux that the visit to the United States had been an entire success, adding:

"I am in a hurry to resume command of my torpedo boat destroyer, but I am glad to have been entrusted with the mission of carrying to the American people the homage of Italy, as Marshal Joffre and M. Viviani carried that of France. Heart to heart talks among the allies are necessary. There is no other way of collaborating for common victory. Our unforgettable reception from the Americans is a symbol of the resolution that unites the allied peoples."

NEW YORK FEELS THE HORRORS OF THE GREAT WAR

New York, July 11.—Free lunch and the large glass of beer for a nickel will pass into history beginning next Monday, according to a decision of the Retail Liquor Dealers' association of New York city.

It was said the banishment of the free lunch would save the 3,000 saloonkeepers, members of the association, about $20,000 to $25,000 worth of food each day and that the organization had taken this action to help the government in food conservation. Besides using smaller beer glasses, it was decided to raise the price of a pint of beer to twenty cents.

COME AND GET YOUR FEDERAL BULLETIN

Mrs. Housewife, you are requested to call at the food relief headquarters and get your government bulletins on food preserving. There are a number of the instructive pamphlets on hand. They are interesting and the steps in caring for foods are well illustrated.

"Drying Fruits and Vegetables" is the title of one series of free booklets. "Canning by the Cold Pack Process" is the subject of the other set of pamphlets.

PRESIDENT TO RULE WHISKY

Senate Agrees That He Shall Have Power to Com-mandeer.

TO HAVE $150,000,000 WITH WHICH TO PAY

Objection Made to Plan Except That There Be an Accounting.

Washington, July 11.—After accepting tentatively the committee amendment authorizing the president to commandeer whisky held in bond, consideration of the administrative sections of the food bill was taken up by the senate today and Senators Overman and Smoot objected to appropriating $150,000,000 for carrying out the provisions of the act without some provisions for a detailed statement of expenditures.

Senator Chamberlain then introduced an amendment to require the president to file an itemized account annually. He also introduced an amendment appropriating $200,000,000 for the erection of temporary buildings on grounds owned by the government to be used by the administrators of the food bill.

Senator Reed said he understood that the agriculture committee was to bring a substitute food bill and he protested against further consideration of the present bill as a waste of time. Senator Knox also voiced disapproval of this method.

Younest Boy to Enlist Here

WAYNE WILLIAM SKELTON.

Wayne William Skelton is probably the youngest Fort Wayne boy to enlist in the service of his country. The young man, who was 16 years old last February, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Will W. Skelton, 1237 West Jefferson street, and is a grandson of Judge Benjamin W. Skelton. The young man followed in the footsteps of his grandfather who enlisted in the civil war in May, 1862, over two months before he had reached his sixteenth birthday. The grandson was five months older when he enlisted, than his grandfater when he answered Lincoln's call.

Young Skelton enlisted on April 30 and left for Fort Thomas, Ky., on May 1. From there he was sent to Fort Washington, Pa., and is now in the coast defense service.

For several weeks the lad haunted the local army recruiting station and sought to enlist. Captain Ryan, the officer in charge, because of the boy's extreme youth, gave him no encouragement, but failing to check his ardor at length told him to get the consent of his parents and he would be given a chance. He passed his examinations with flying colors and is a regular soldier and doing his bit along with the men.

WOMEN DIES FROM HURTS

Mrs. Louise Bradtmiller Knocked Down by Two Boys in Accident.

FATAL MISHAP AT CONCORDIA COLLEGE

Lads Were Turning Corner and Did Not See Approaching Woman.

As the result of injuries received on the fourth of July, when she was run into by two boys and knocked to the ground with terrible force, Mrs. Louise Bradtmiller, 62 years, 6 months and 3 days old, died Wednesday morning at 12:20 o'clock at the Lutheran hospital.

The accident occurred at one of the corners of Concordia college. The two boys started to turn the corner. Both were running. They did not see Mrs. Bradtmiller. Neither did she see the boys in time to avoid them, with the result that they ran into her, knocking her down. The accident was entirely unavoidable, it is said.

At first it was not thought Mrs. Bradtmiller's injuries were serious. She was taken to her home and later to the Lutheran hospital. It was found she was hurt internally.

The deceased is survived by seven children, one brother and two sisters. The children are Henry W. Bradtmiller, of this city; Herman W. Bradtmiller, of Kendallville; Theodore Bradtmiller, of Minneapolis; Mrs. John Stokes, Mrs. C. H. Murakowski, Mrs. John Davis and Miss Marie Bradtmiller, all of this city. William Melneke is a brother and Mrs. Hervey Lichtsinn and Mrs. William Greve are sisters.

The body has been taken to the home of the daughter, Mrs. C. H. Murakowski, 2401 South Calhoun street. Funeral services Friday. The deceased was a member of the St. Paul Lutheran church.

SAVE OUNCE OF MEAT A DAY FOR TO FEED ARMIES

Washington, July 11.—To conserve the nation's meat supply, each person in the United States is asked by the food administration to cut down by at least one ounce the amount of meat eaten each day. Recent studies, it is stated, show that the average daily per capita consumption is nearly one-third of a pound of beef and one-fifth of a pound of pork. The adoption of this suggestion will, it is believed, relieve the demands of the armies at home and abroad and also leave a larger supply for the allies.

ELECTRIC LIGHT RATE WILL NOT BE RAISED

Indiana Association Petitions for Right to Increase if Necessary.

Rumor to the effect that rates for electric light and power supplied by the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company would be raised are incorrect, according to statements by officials of the company. The rumors have been very persistent and have arisen through a petition sent to the public service commission of the state by the Indiana Electric Light association, through its president, Samuel W. Greenland, general manager of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana.

The petition requests that companies throughout the state, which are losing money by supplying electric energy at present rates be allowed to increase their rates thirty per cent. The list of companies included in the petition represent, in all probability, the majority of such companies in the state, but the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company is not among them.

REWARD OF $50 ON CHILD ASSAULTER

Sheriff Gillie has learned that there is a reward of $50 on the head of Edward Wilke, alias John Smith, charged with attacking a small girl at Robinson park last Sunday. Wilke had been paroled from the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., where he had been sent after conviction on a rape charge five years ago.

Parole officers from Atlanta will come for Wilke soon and bring the $50 with them. Sheriff Gillie has received word. Wilke will be turned over to the federal authorities to serve a long sentence rather than be tried here on the assault complaint.

SUBMIT NEW RITUAL TO ELKS GRAND LODGE

Supreme Body Also Hears Report on "Big Brother" Movement in War.

Boston, July 14.—A new ritual, in course of preparation by a commission for three years, was submitted to the grand lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks today.

The report submitted by the committee on the "big brother" movement, designed to aid unfortunate and delinquent boys and girls, read in part:

"The statistics of the countries not actually engaged in warfare show an alarming increase in juvenile delinquency. We, as Elks, should do something to prevent such a condition in this country. To those of us who are prevented for various reasons from offering our services for the success of the work in which our country is so unselfishly engaged, liberty of the entire world, what more patriotic duty could we perform than to take upon ourselves the duty of big brotherhood and to look after and care for the boys of those who will fight our battles?"

Fred C. Harper, a lawyer, of Lynchburg, Va., was elected grand exalted ruler of the order and Atlantic City was unanimously named as the next convention city. Harper received 1,201 votes, against 305 for John W. Stevenson, of Fulton, N. Y.

Resolutions endorsing President Wilson's stand in the war were unanimously adopted. The total membership of the order for the year was 474,699. Fred C. Robinson, grand secretary, stated that total receipts of the grand lodge during the year were $181,060, and total expenses $126,000, with a present surplus of $112,277.

The board of grand trustees recommended that there should be created a special war emergency charity fund, to be disbursed under the direction of the grand exalted ruler and board of grand trustees. A special per capita tax of 25 cents may be levied.

SAYS PRUSSIA HAS PROMISED BALLOT TO ALL

Copenhagen, July 11.—The socialist organ Vorwaerts, copies of which have just been received here, devotes black face type to positive reports in the reichstag that the Prussian government decided to introduce a bill in autumn without waiting for peace.

The Vossische Zeitung announces that the Prussian minister of the interior, von Lobell, had an audience with the emperor Monday. Reports given under reserve are that Herr von Lobell recommended to the emperor the quickest possible execution of internal reforms and suggested as a preliminary to a parliamentary ministry that all imperial secretaries of state and Prussian ministers submit their resignations in order to give the new chancellor a free hand in calling members of the reichstag to the cabinet.

The Vossische Zeitung's reserve seems justified in view of Herr von Lobell's known standpoint.

Walter Sidel, age 14, of Washington, D. C., holds a first-class wireless operator's license, granted him a few weeks ago by the government.

FORT WAYNE MAN PROMOTED

Howard Laubach Advanced from Major to Lieutenant Colonel.

NOW STATIONED AT FORT HOUSTON, TEX.

He Will Be There for the Summer Establishing Five Cantons.

Word has been received by local relatives of the advancement of Major Howard Laubach, of the United States army, to the position of lieutenant colonel.

Major Laubach is a Fort Wayne boy and will be well remembered by his many friends here, although leaving this city many years ago. He is a brother of Mrs. Charles Kuhne, Washington boulevard, west.

Major Laubach is a graduate of West Point and has had many years' experience in army life. At the present time he is stationed at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, Texas. He will be there throughout the summer and will be in direct charge of the establishment of five cantons used for the training of Uncle Sam's new army, that will be sworn into service as soon as the draft has been made. Similar cantons are being established throughout various parts of the United States.

THAT IS FOR POLICE TO LEARN FOR SELVES

One of three young men accounted by Detective Sergeant Walter Immel gave the name of John Watkins, Wednesday afternoon. In his pocket was a Fort Wayne registration card bearing the name George Huner. There was also a check for a suit case just sent to Chicago, while Huner says he is going to Toledo.

"Who are you for sure?" asked the detective.

"That is for you to find out," retorted the young man.

The detective, who thinks the youth may have a past, is determined to find out. He is holding all members of the trio for a more thorough investigation.

RAILWAY EARNINGS FOR MAY SHOW GAIN

Washington, July 11.—Reports of 176 of the principal railroads of the United States to the interstate commerce commission today showed that despite heavy increases in expenses, earnings had increased in May, 1917, more than $3,500,000 over May, 1916. These roads earned in May, 1916, $101,169,248; in 1917, $104,721,370.

Eastern roads showed a decrease in earnings, which was more than offset by increases for both southern and western roads.

Learn Some French Today

SEVENTH LESSON PREPARED BY MME. ARCHINARD

I wish to see d'ergeant — Je voudrais voir le sergent — Juh voodray vwar luh sayvrian?

Will he get better? — Se guérira - t - il? — Suh gayreera - teel?

When have you been wounded? — Quand avez-vous été blessé? — Kang away voo zaytā blāsā?

At what time is the dressing? — A quelle heure le pansement? — Ä kell ühr luh pansuhman?

In these lessons the English sentence appears in the first line, the French equivalent in the second and the pronunciation in the third line. In the pronunciation key, straight lines over the letters A and U denote the long sound, as in "Hate" and "Ude"; curved lines over these letters denote the short sound, as in "hat" and "but"; two dots over the U indicate a sound somewhat like the German "ue," which Americans may approach by pronouncing long U and long E at the same time.

Cut out these lessons and paste them in your note book. The purpose here is merely to give the young men who may serve with the army in France such a knowledge of French as will make simple wants known and some sort of friendly intercourse with French people and soldiers possible. No attempt is made to teach the grammar of the language.

Chiefs Win and Lose and Drop Back Into Last Place

Pitchers Are Hit Considerably During the Afternoon's Games.

A defeat, a victory, and a place at the bottom of the heap are all that the Chiefs have to show for their work yesterday. They might have just as well waited for returns from the game as Peoria in which the newcomers made their debut by winning from Muskegon and taking seventh position vacated by the Benders just before they retired from our midst.

It was a hard afternoon and the balls traveled a long distance when the hits and errors are considered. In the first game Essick's Black Sox won from the chiefs, 8 to 5, while the locals made it up in the second contest by winning 10 to 4. In the first the visitors played like a bunch of high school boys but the Chiefs went them one better and put on a good exhibition of grade school baseball.

Grand Rapids grabbed the lead in the first game, by converting with Roberts for the means of scoring two runs in the opening round. They held it until the last of the fourth when the Chiefs forged to the head by marking up three. In the next inning, however, the visitors came back, tying the score, and then after an inning of rest, much needed by both clubs, they scored three in the seventh and two in the eighth. Our gang tried in vain to take the lead again but the most they could do was get two around. Hoffman, who was sent to Fort Wayne from the Benders arrived in time to bat for Gleich in the ninth. He whiffed, but took his position at third in the next game and was credited with a single and a run.

Faeth started for Grand Rapids in the second and he had little more than a desire to get one over. His specialty for the afternoon was wild leaves and one uncocked in the very first inning gave the Chiefs the first of their ten runs. Grand Rapids came back with one in the second and two in the third, but the Chiefs were not to be outdone and they took three in the last of the third just to regain their lead.

After that it was all over. Doc Cummins was boss and proved to be a mighty strict one for the visitors. He allowed them one more run during the game, but not until the locals had a three run lead and after that two runs in the sixth and two in the eighth for the Chiefs put the game on ice. Faeth was relieved of his duties for the day in the sixth, after his last offering had been accepted and turned into a double by our good friend Smith. However, Faeth should not be blamed for a double by Smith, for the hard-working catcher has developed a habit of getting his teeth and fingers on the ball like a ten of bricks. Carpenter didn't get the Chiefs under control until they were ready to be controlled.

Gleich was relieved of his turn at bat in the first game and the deal must have gone under the skin, for his offerings in the second contest included a double and a homer. The double was presented to him by some nice crossing in the outfield, but the homer sure was a "dandy."

Concerning Cummins' "wheel ball," the "Doc" should know whether it's right or not, having been an umpire once.

About two more wallpops at the ball and Brown is going to be dubbed a hard hitting demon. His sacrifice fly in the first game was one of the longest hits ever poked in the park and Mathew can thank his stars, or whatever he thanks, that he was camping far from the usual position.

Three Managers in Four Days—Callahan, Wagner, Bezdek—That's New Record Established by Barney Dreyfuss.

BY PAUL PURMAN.

Three managers in four days, that's an all-time baseball record.

Presidents of baseball clubs are seldom credited with records in the dope books, but this record must be credited to Barney Dreyfuss, president of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

In four days Dreyfuss had three managers in turn piloting his ball club. The first was Jim Callahan, who began the season with the Pirates; the second, Hans Wagner, who threw up the job in two days, and the third, Hugo Bezdek, who deserves credit for his nerve if for nothing else.

Bezdek's appointment is more or less an experiment. Practically unknown to the baseball world, it is a question whether the former Chicago athlete will be able to accomplish what a smart ballplayer like Callahan failed to achieve, and the wily and ancient Honus did not care to attempt.

Bezdek has been with the Pirates as a coach and scout. His earlier activities have been generally limited to college athletics, football mainly. In fact he never played professional baseball. The only other managers who come to mind who have not been players are Bill Armour and Branch Rickey.

Football fans will remember Bezdek as the dazzling wildcat star of the Maroons in the early years of this century. His last game was the memorable 2 to 0 defeat of Michigan by Chicago in 1903.

He has since coached college teams, having been with the Oregon university coach champions last year.

Jim Callahan is a smart manager. His failure at Pittsburgh cannot be any more ascribed to his deficiencies than to the failure of Dreyfuss to spend money for good ballplayers, instead of the bush leaguers he has been trying to keep in the race with.

Callahan has one great fault. He is inclined to be uptight and in this way fails to gain the confidence of his ballplayers.

This probably was the cause of his failure with the Chicago White Sox when he had unlimited money to spend and built up the wonderful pitching staff which included Eddie Cicotte, Mel Wolffgang, Red Faber, Bob Russell and Jim Scott and which added Ray Schalk and Happy Felsch to the club.

Callahan tried hard at Pittsburgh. He had every possible expedient to get a winning club but he couldn't win with the misfits Dreyfuss wished on him.

Wagner's case is different. In the first place he didn't want to play ball this year. He has plenty of money and didn't care to take the trouble to get in shape. His decision to play was merely a concession to his friendship for Dreyfuss.

Wagner is popular in Pittsburgh. By becoming manager of a failed club he realized that he might forfeit his popularity, a sacrifice that even his friendship for Dreyfuss would not counter-balance.

Right now it looks as though Bezdek has a thankless job before him.

SPEED MERCHANTS TO RACE AT STATE PARK

DePalma and Oldfield Will Fight for Dirt Track Supremacy Saturday.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 11.—This city is not to be deprived of a great automobile racing classic this year. Despite the fact that the annual speedway decoration day race was called off because of war, as Barney Oldfield, master driver of the world, and Ralph DePalma, idol of the speedways, will clash in three racing duels of 25, 15 and 10 miles at the State Fair grounds next Saturday afternoon.

The speed battles of the renowned speed kings will be the third and last in a series of three match-races to settle the world's dirt track championship, and as each of the noted and heavy drivers has chalked up one victory to his credit, it is predicted that the two stars of the racing realm will fight fast and furiously from start to finish in the deciding events here.

Milwaukee, Wis., was the scene of the initial speed activities of the veteran rivals, and Oldfield walked away from DePalma in three straight races. Barney was overconfident when they hooked up at Detroit July Fourth in the second of the series, his easy earlier victory making him think he would have no difficulty in humiliating his redoubtable Italian opponent, and DePalma turned the tables and made him swallow three bitter doses of defeat. Ralph was so fast that he broke the world's record for 25 miles by 35 seconds.

Oldfield is already here with his new and freakish "submarine speedster," in which he will start the contest, and his "Deluge Devil," the emergency car. They are being put in spick and span shape so that Barney will have no alibi to offer if his old-time enemy re-shapes his Detroit dose. DePalma and his two fast 12-cylinder Packards, with aeroplanes motors, will reach this city tomorrow, coming direct from Detroit, where they are being primed for the gruelling speed spurs here.

Because both Barney and Ralph will pilot cars capable of a speed of almost 120 miles an hour on the big speedways and because of the bitterness of their rivalry, it is predicted here in the real home of racing that records for various distances from one to twenty-five miles will be smashed to smithereens and even tinner bits when the feudists of the speed circles snarl and fight for the world's dirt track championship Saturday afternoon.

FALKENBERG BACK TO MINOR LEAGUE AGAIN

Cy Will Probably Never Pitch Another Major Baseball Game.

For the third time in his long career Cy Falkenberg has gone back to the minors. It is not probable that he will ever pitch a big league game again.

The elongated twirler has been sent back to Indianapolis by Connie Mack and probably will grace the American association until that company gets too fast for him.

Falky first went to the minors in 1915, being released to Toledo by Cleveland. In Toledo he mastered the use of the emergency ball and had such phenomenal success that he was returned to Cleveland. In 1914 he joined the Federal league, and when that organization went up in smoke joined Indianapolis.

This spring Connie Mack traded John Nabors for Falky, but Falky didn't last in fast company. Nabors was found wanting at Indianapolis and has been sent to Denver.

TROUBLE FOR DICK.

Former Central President Has a Western League Club for Sale.

Chicago, July 11.—Owner Jack Holland, of the St. Joseph, Mo., Western league club, professed surprise here yesterday when informed that patrons of the game in St. Joseph decided at a mass meeting that they would no longer support a club owned by him.

"It's news to me," Holland said. "I have been away for ten days looking for players to strengthen the team. I shall be glad to quit St. Joe if I'm not wanted."

Holland said that he had placed the club in the hands of E. W. Dickerson, president of the league, for disposal, and that he would sell immediately if a satisfactory price is offered. He denied reports that Pitcher Babe Adams had been sold to the Chicago Cubs.

CUBS RELEASE ARCHER.

Chicago, July 11.—Jimmy Archer, who only a few years ago was considered the best catcher in the National league, has been given his unconditional release by the Cubs. In order to release him it was necessary to obtain waivers from all clubs in the league, and no club cared to take him.

President Weeghman, of the Cubs, said Archer had been given an unconditional release, as the club did not wish to dispose of him to a minor league after his long service to the Cubs. Archer now is free to sign with any team.

In the spring Archer refused to accept the terms offered him by the Cubs and did not make the training trip, but just before the season opened he came to terms. While with the Cubs this year he was used only as third catcher.

CHARGED WITH LARCENY.

St. Louis, Mo., July 11.—Pitcher Ray Caldwell, of the New York Yankees, was arrested Monday night on a charge of larceny on complaint of Mrs. Lucy L. Dick, who accused Caldwell of taking from her a diamond ring valued at $150. Caldwell said the ring was in Cleveland. He was released on bond.

COMPETITION GROWING HOT IN GOLF TOURNEY

Still Contending With the Visiting Stars.

Chicago, July 11.—Sixteen leading amateur golfers today played thirty-six holes at the Midlothian Country club links in the second match round of the western amateur championship, made national in character by the entry of several eastern players, three of whom survived the first match round yesterday. To contend for the title with Francis Ouimet and Jesse P. Guilford, of Boston, and John G. Anderson, of New York, are J. S. Worthington, of England; Jack May, of Argentina; Reuben Bash, of New Orleans; G. Decker, French, of Rock Island, and nine Chicago players.

The Chicago contenders who have displayed the best golf thus far are Donald Edwards, medalist; Kenneth Edwards, who had second medal score, and D. E. Sawyer, who yesterday eliminated Bobby Jones, of Atlanta, southern champion, after a terrific struggle at par golf. Guilford, the Massachusetts champion, survived the first match round only by carrying Walter Crowliss, a Chicago public links golfer, to the fourth extra hole after having been three down to the Chicagoan at the end of the ninth hole. Anderson was down much of the way to Gardner, of Chicago, but finally pulled through 2 and 1. Ouimet had to play herculean golf to overcome S. McIntyre, of Chicago, 3 and 1.

J. S. Worthington, the only British entry, after defeating Perry Adair, the young Atlanta golfer, 2 and 1 yesterday, met Donald Edwards today, while May, the Argentina champion, played B. Hoover Baunkard, who yesterday downed Richard Hickey, of Atlanta, 2 and 1. Ouimet played J. T. Henry, a public links golfer, who yesterday ousted Albert Seckle, former champion. Bush, after defeating Arthur Lee, of Detroit, faced Kenneth Edwards, whom Uncle Martin carried to the nineteenth hole.

The Money-Making Muggsyisms of 'Muggsy' McGraw

Canny Baiter of Umpires and Players Has Been "Cashing In" on His Rough-House Tactics on the Diamond These Many Years.

BY J. B. SHERIDAN.

WHEN John J. McGraw, manager of the New York National League Baseball Club, Umpire William Byron on the jaw at Cincinnati a week or so ago, a wild yell of "Blackguard! Thug! Roughneck! Rowdy! Bar him from baseball!" went up from the writers for the daily and weekly press.

McGraw was roundly taken to task. It was pointed out that baseball could not hope to survive such actions as those of McGraw.

Which makes the veteran follower of baseball smile.

What is the use of abusing McGraw for doing what he has been doing for twenty-five years?

Why abuse McGraw when such actions, covering a period of twenty-five years, have made him the highest salaried and most famous man in baseball?

What is the use of saying that people won't come out to see McGraw argue and fight with other managers and umpires and players, when the fact is that year after year more people, outside of New York, go to see McGraw play than go to see any manager in baseball?

What is the use of writers censuring McGraw for his "aggressiveness" and counseling courtesy and fair play on the ball field, when McGraw's team makes on an average of $350,000 a year, while McGraw draws salary and share of profits almost up to $50,000 a year, while the team managed by his only rival in winning baseball games, Connie Mack, drew so poorly that he had to dispose of his high-salaried players and accept a salary of some $7500 a year for himself?

Don't say that McGraw's team is at home, in New York, the center of the greatest population in the United States, while other teams are at home in much more limited population centers of population.

Remember, McGraw's teams draw, and long have drawn, more persons in the smaller cities than any team managed by a courteous, well-behaved, peaceable manager.

New York, headed by the aggressive McGraw, drew three times as many people in the cities outside of New York as the world's champion Athletics drew in the years when they had proven their superiority to McGraw's New York team.

When McGraw went to Philadelphia to play the National League Club of that city he got more for his 40 per cent of the gate receipts than the Athletics, a championship team, got for their 60 per cent when playing at Philadelphia, their home city.

Aggressiveness and Attendance.

It may be true that McGraw draws because he has a good team. The Athletics had a much better team. Yet in Philadelphia, the home of the Athletics, McGraw outdrew the well-behaved world's champions, two persons to one.

It may be that McGraw's "aggressive" "rowdy," if you will—tactics and the aggressive, i. e., rowdy, actions of his players do not attract spectators.

Yet the record clearly shows that spectators do not stay away from the baseball games played by the New York club because of the superaggressive tactics of McGraw and of his players.

The record backs McGraw in pursuance of his "aggressiveness."

He draws more people to the games than any other manager. He draws more salary than any other four managers combined. At home and abroad he outdraws all other clubs.

They have been talking about McGraw's rowdiness and the necessity of driving him out of baseball, if baseball was to flourish, for twenty-five years.

Yet every year sees McGraw grow greater in drawing power, in playing strength and in personal aggrandizement. He signed a new contract to manage the Giants last year. That con-

TWO PORTRAITS OF "MUGGSY" MCGRAW

"Tagke him away, Pill; tagke him away," said Von der Ahe. "Wait until he grows up and den pring him around again. Den I consider signing him. He iss still in der class of der boys on der lot."

Gleason tried hard to induce Von der Ahe to take McGraw. The big German was obdurate. Big men had been the style in baseball and he was not prepared to sign a slim lad like McGraw. The boy weighed 125 pounds then, and really was the lightest youngster that ever entered professional baseball to that time.

Later on, "Tot" Murphy of Yale played with New York, but Murphy probably was heavier than McGraw when both entered the league.

Gleason sent McGraw on to Jack Chapman, who was then managing Baltimore in its first year, 1892, in the National League. Chapman took McGraw, but used him as a substitute. The famous New York leader was employed at second, short and third during his first two years in the major league and did not make a wonderful record in any position. His aggressiveness alone kept him in baseball.

In 1894 Ed Hanlon took charge of the Baltimore Club. He had several old players on his team and had to release many of them. He kept McGraw, got Hugh Jennings, now manager of Detroit, and Harry Taylor from Louisville, picked up Keeler from Brooklyn, Joe Kelley from Boston, Walter Brodie and Third baseman and shortstop and other infielders obliged to play in close bat runners beat out slow balls, but did not play developed, if indeed, not employed for the first time in baseball.

Hurry up, last game style of play, put into force.

Aggressiveness and "umpire baiting" developed into a science. When these changes in play first became visible to spectators, Edward Hanlon, manager of the Baltimore team, was credited with their invention, development and application. The inexorable test of time proved that McGraw, not any other person, was the inventor of the new plays, the "spark plug," that speeded up the machine to make them. Hanlon did not prove successful after he parted from McGraw.

Jennings has not been rated at all so successful a manager as his right-hand team-mate at Baltimore. Kelly, called as a manager, Robinson has had some measure of success as manager of Brooklyn. McGraw has enjoyed seventeen years of uninterrupted artistic and finan-

Could Make Pitcher Pitch.

McGraw was, however, recognized as a "great man at the bat." That meant that he could "make the pitcher pitch." "Trot out" good strikes, bunt, drag-bunt "cross his infield," worry the pitcher with sharp words, get the catcher mad, nag and bluff the umpire with his superior speed of thought and bitterness of tongue, scare basemen by threatening to spike them, and do the thousand and one little things that a great ballplayer does to win ball games, things which are not in the book, which are invisible and maddening to the spectators and which for these reasons have come to be known as "inside baseball."

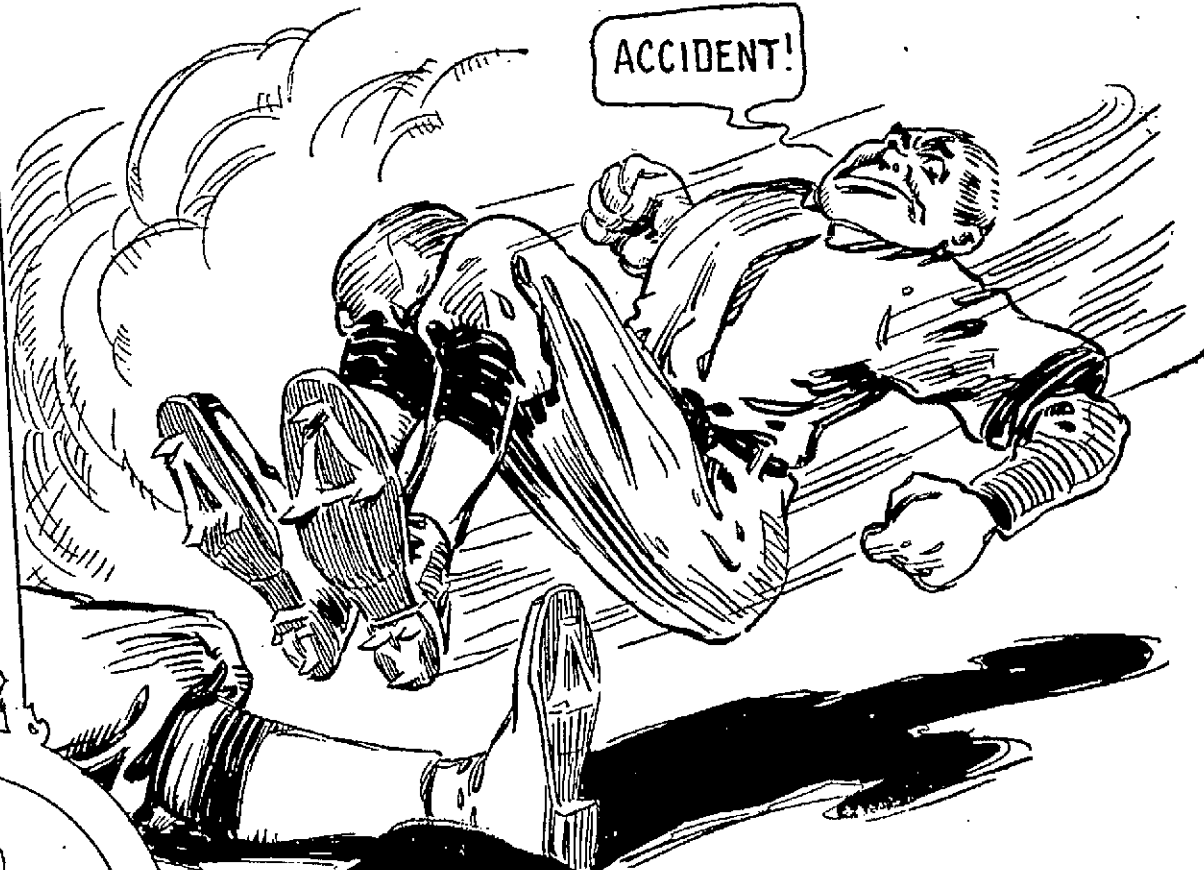

It is important to bear in mind that McGraw was not a great hitter, great pitcher or great base runner. He did not make his reputation on hitting and fielding, as did his mates, Kelly, Keeler and Jennings, but on his ability to worry a pitcher by semi-illegal methods, a catcher by his quick wit, and the umpire by his quicker thinking and rapid-fire tongue and basemen by his uncompromising terrorism.

Poison in His Speech.

It is not so much what McGraw says as the manner in which he speaks and points his barb. Many other managers and players might say, without hurting anyone, things that when said by McGraw set the blood of the victim to the boiling point. McGraw puts poison into his speech. It is a trick the Irish have. Umpire Byron, who is of Irish extraction, too, barbed his words when he said in tones of scathing scorn: "They drove you out of Baltimore. They'll drive you out of baseball."

There is more truth than poetry in the statement that McGraw was driven from Baltimore. He left the town of his own accord, but the baseball folk there are bitter because they feel that McGraw, their idol of ten years' standing, "threw them down." It is doubtful that McGraw could be welcomed in Baltimore. He knows that. Byron knows it, too. Further, Byron being Irish, instinctively knew how to barb his words so that they stung McGraw beyond endurance. Only the Irish know how to sting the Irish. Had a German, Briton, Italian or man of any other nationality said the same words to McGraw, it is doubtful that the little Napoleon would have paid any attention to them. Byron put the Irish poison in them, and like the look given Lord Arthur Vargrave by the duo du Lovis, "They were meant to rankle and bite. And they bit and they rankled."

So McGraw took a swing at Byron and Byron swung at McGraw and they were having a lovely Irish time when a German named Schwab butted in, and Cletcher Bardeen swabbed up the ground with Schwab.

When two Irish are passing verbal poison back and forth, a German would bet he is in Northern France, taking a shower of the newest British flaming oil bombs, than attempt to play peacemaker between the fighting Finbolls.

Baseball fans are always lamenting the decay of the winning spirit, the life that the old Orioles put into baseball. McGraw, the much-anathematized McGraw, is the very soul of that admirable fury, victory, or "rage for victory." In his passion for winning, for success, McGraw spares himself and his teammates little less than he spares umpires and opposing players. McGraw's love of proper play, as baseball is so great and so intense that he despises all inefficiency, all malingering, all failure to give spectators the worth of their money. No fellow-player makes a bad play without feeling the fire of McGraw's scathing reproof. He never hesitated to make enemies in this way.

His Own Medicine.

Many of the men who played with him on the Baltimore team were never on speaking terms with McGraw. Jack Doyle, who played first base and took throws from McGraw for many years, never spoke to his third baseman. Doyle really wanted to play McGraw. The first baseman put a period to McGraw's active playing as soon as he got a chance to do so. The Baltimore team broke up in 1898. Doyle went to Philadelphia, McGraw to St. Louis. The first time Doyle got a good chance to slide into McGraw, at third base he did so. Jack paid no attention to the bag, but jumped, spikes first, at McGraw, who was standing some distance off the line. Doyle caught McGraw at the knees and dislocated one of them. McGraw never did much good at third base again. His injured knee kept going out on him and he quit play forever the next season.

McGraw always was a gadfly to slow, stupid or selfish or cowardly players of his own or opposing teams. Whatever may be said of McGraw's method, it is certain that they have always operated to make games warm, interesting and hard fought.

It is remarkable, too, that while McGraw has been involved in innumerable fist fights, on and off the field, he has yet to emerge victor in any of them. Invariably he has been beaten because he was in his youth, a small man and is now nothing more than a small man never avoided combat. As far as his bulldozing anyone, well, he has fought, with Umpire O'Day for twenty-five years and you never heard O'Day complaining, have you?

A searing flame on the field, McGraw is courteous and polite to an unusual degree not often met with when he is in street clothes. His address is good, he is a splendid host, a charming dinner companion, a keen, well-informed mind, a delightful scintillate on a long train ride. Well read, well informed, John J. McGraw is, off the field, a very well-bred gentleman.

The Wabash auditors who will check Herman C. Miller out and A. E. Klotz in as cashiers of the local offices of the company have not yet appeared, though they were expected a day or two ago. As stated by The Sentinel several days ago, Mr. Miller will go to Napoleon, Ohio, when released from the office of which at Fort Wayne, to be the company's agent. Mr. Klotz, who was Mr. Miller's assistant, will be advanced to the office of cashier.

DR. C. M. GOHEEN IS SUED FOR DIVORCE

His Wife Says He Has Failed to Properly Provide for Her.

Dr. Charles M. Goheen, who has figured in the limelight more or less conspicuously for several months, was made defendant in a divorce suit filed Wednesday in superior court by Mary C. Goheen. Mrs. Goheen is represented by Attorneys Hartzell & Todd.

Mrs. Goheen charges that her husband has failed to provide for her and that as a result she has had to make her own living. They were married June, 1880, and separated in May, 1915. It will be recalled that Dr. Goheen was recently defendant in a case tried at Bluffton on a charge of venue charging him with causing the deaths of two children on whom he had operated. The jury disagreed and it is understood there will be no further prosecution of the case. Mrs. Goheen lives at 2333 Lafayette street.

FAILED TO PROVIDE.

Florence Martz Also Says Her Husband Has Been Cruel.

Failure to provide and cruelty are charged in a complaint for divorce filed Wednesday in the superior court by Florence Martz, through her attorneys, Hartzell & Todd, against George E. Martz. The couple were married October 20, 1914, and separated July, 1916. Mrs. Martz lives at 1225 Putnam street.

Mrs. Martz says that her husband has been cruel to her in a manner that she does not care to state in her complaint. She also asks for an order restraining the Matlock Transfer company from paying to her husband his wages until disposition has been made of the case and also for the restoration of her maiden name of Florence Knight.

MANY WITNESSES

In Divorce Case of Viola Archibald Against John D. Archibald.

An unusually large number of witnesses for a divorce case were examined Wednesday in superior court in the action brought by Viola Archibald against John D. Archibald. The case was originally filed by Mrs. Archibald and soon afterward Archibald came back with a cross-complaint. The custody of their two children is the principal reason why the case is being so bitterly fought.

Checking Bridges.

The county commissioners made a tour of Perry, Cedar Creek and El River townships Tuesday for the purpose of checking the various bridges, contracts for the repair of which will be let at a later date.

Change of Venue Asked.

A change of venue has been asked in the case brought by Helen Humphreys, a minor, by her next friend, John C. Altman, against the Marion & Bluffton Traction company for $10,000, filed in the Huntington circuit court. The suit is for damages for personal injuries received by the plaintiff on June 6, 1915, when she was riding in an automobile along a public highway in Huntington and the machine was struck by a car of the defendant company at a crossing, the view of the tracks being obstructed by a field of growing grain.

Remonstrance Filed.

A remonstrance has been filed by Frederick David against the construction of a drain in Madison township petitioned for by Gustave Frederick and others.

Three Citations.

Three citations were issued in superior court Wednesday. Louis McKee, Martin Wiedman and James Cooper must all appear in court on July 17 and show cause why they have not abided by court order in decrees for divorce granted their wives. Each was to pay a stipulated amount weekly, which they have failed to do.

Case is Settled.

The suit brought by Jane Lutz against William Lutz, Mary E. True and Clark J. Lutz in superior court has been settled and dismissed.

even though he was suspected, with reason, of being a secret revolutionist. General Korniloff was an officer in the guards and being penniless he was obliged to serve in Turkestan. In the Japanese war, he received the rank of colonel and was entrusted with a desperate mission—that of covering the retreat from Mukden of one of General Kuropatkin's shattered armies. It was executed with such resolution and skill he was given the St. George cross.

Later he traveled all through Turkestan, the Caucasus and Europe, studying, observing and writing invaluable books on Turkestan and the countries of Central Asia.

Amazing to strangers is his gift for languages, for he speaks not only all European but also Persian, English and every dialect of Central Asia. At the outbreak of the war he was in command of the Forty-eighth division, once called Suvoroff's, now Korniloff's. In Galicia in 1915 he repeated the Mukden feat under an unexampled month-long hail of Austro-Hungarian German shells, wherein his own forces broke through the encircling foe, but he himself was wounded and taken prisoner by the Austrians.

The enemy press related that their generals were so impressed with General Korniloff's accomplishments and noble bearing that the return of his sword showed greater honor to Russia's admirable Czar than to their own victorious commander. His restless spirit did not long stand captivated. After a daring flight from an Austrian prison camp, an astonishing adventure, he reached Russia.

At the outbreak of the revolution he was invited to command the troops of Petrograd, implying full confidence in revolutionary Russia. When the disorders arose General Korniloff, fearing the necessity of repression, resigned, saying he would sooner shoot the foe than his own countrymen. He took command of the eighth army, whose brilliant exploit is due primarily to him.

EXPANDING

H. O. Bruggeman, Mrs. Benzer and Mrs. Edson are in charge of their regular glass work.

Considering Sites. Fort Wayne officials are now considering sites for the warehouse to be used as the distributing place for Red Cross supplies for all the northern Indiana chapters. Fort Wayne having been named as the central station for inspection and distribution. All supplies from the northern Indiana chapters will be sent here, inspected and shipped to points where they are needed. Mrs. A. E. Faure, who has been at the head of the membership committee of the Red Cross for the past few months, was named as head of the shipping section. Arrangements for the placing of the station were made by Executive Chairman E. C. Miller, through A. F. Bentley, state director.

Under the new system 120 chapters will come under the jurisdiction of the Fort Wayne station in the inspection and shipping of supplies. Formerly all supplies were sent to Chicago, the nearest shipping station, but now supplies will be sent directly from Fort Wayne to all points, whether it be New York or Paris that is in need. Fort Wayne will be the meeting place Friday afternoon for representatives from all the Red Cross chapters of northern Indiana to hear a talk by Mrs. Belmont Tiffany, of New York, authority on hospital supplies. The meeting will be held at the Commercial enemy fleet off Constantinople was announced in a statement of British war office today. Bombs were dropped on the Turkish cruiser Yuz Sultan Selim, formerly the German cruiser Goeben. The extent of the damage to the vessel is not given.

The war office at Constantinople also was attacked and a direct hit was attributed by the British, who returned without casualties.

COAL CARDS IN BERLIN.

Copenhagen, July 11.—Coal cards have been introduced in Berlin in order to relieve the winter supply. Apartments with heated stoves will be limited to a quarter of a ton per room and a maximum of a ton and a half for more than five rooms. Steam heated houses will be limited to half of last year's supply.

FRENCH AIR RAIDER SAFE.

Paris, July 11.—Sergt. Maj. Antion Paillard, one of the French aviators who participated in the bombardment last Friday of the Krupp factory at Essen, Germany, and who failed to return, has, it is now learned, landed safely in Holland.

NO BIG OFFENSIVE LIKELY.

Copenhagen, July 11.—Major Morant, military correspondent of the Deutsche Tages Zeitung, asks in a press article whether the moment has arrived for an offensive by Germany and concludes that for the present one is inadvisable. All Germany, he says, longs to hear the charging yell of the German armies in a big drive, but it is doubtful whether the necessary numerical superiority can be concentrated against any particular front to push an offensive through to real success.

Partial success, Major Morant says, is costly and useless and the general staff, therefore, is well advised in not attempting a big attack on the western front.

GERMAN ATTACK FAILS.

Paris, July 11.—The Germans made an attack last night in the Woivre north of Flirey. Today's official statement says they were repulsed.

The statement follows: "The artillery fighting was rather spirited north of Jouy, in the region of Saignol and in the Champagne. We repulsed two surprise attacks on small posts. The enemy left prisoners in our hands."

"On the left bank of the Meuse (Verdun front) the artillery fighting continued to be very heavy in the sector of hill 304. In the Woivre the Germans delivered an attack against our positions north of Flirey. After a severe combat the enemy was ejected entirely from part of a trench in which he had gained a footing."

members of the association. The surcharge is to be temporary only. It was said.

The commission just before noon continued for thirty days the hearing started this morning on the request of the association for permission to reduce the number of heat units in artificial gas. The continuance was granted after City Attorney Bond, of Richmond, representing municipalities objecting to the proposed reduction, raised the question of jurisdiction of the public service commission in the matter. He was given twenty days in which to file a brief supporting his point and the companies were given an additional ten days in which to answer.

The Indiana Gas association asked the authority to reduce from 600 British thermal units the present standard, to 550 heat units. Opposition to the request is being pushed by Indianapolis citizens and officials. The gas companies argued that the reduction could be made without interfering materially with the consumer, and thereby give the companies an opportunity to make a saving in their cost of production.

EARLY CLOSING OF HOBOKEN SALOONS

City Authorities Yield to Federal Request and Improve Upon It.

New York, July 11.—Beginning tonight all saloons in Hoboken, N. J., will close at 10 o'clock and remain closed until 6 in the morning. This action was taken by the city commissioners following a conference with Col. J. M. Carson, of the quarter-master's corps, U. S. A., who had previously made two efforts to have the bars closed during these hours at the saloons near the army piers. Today's order will include all of the 300 saloons in Hoboken.

During the eight hours when the bars are closed in effect in Hoboken the police have been instructed to report all violations of the closing ordinance to the federal authorities.

before the committee without reaching any decision.

Chancellor's Terms of 1914. Afternoon papers yesterday generally assumed that an agreement of all parties, except conservatives and extreme socialists had been reached by a joint declaration to the Reichstag on peace terms and internal reforms. This, it is said, would contain a reiteration of the chancellor's announcement of August, 1914, of Germany's purpose in the war was not conquest but defense and independence of territorial integrity, expressing a readiness to conclude peace on that basis with a provision rejecting all designs aiming at an economic boycott and continuance of international peace after the war.

The declaration, according to report, would also cover the formation of a coalition ministry with representatives of all parties, and immediate reform of the Prussian franchise.

Peace Part Rejected. The national liberals, however, at a meeting in the evening, rejected the peace part of the resolution and as the center had made their attitude conditional on national movement is threatened. The radicals on the other hand, declined to concur in that part of the resolution dealing with internal reforms if this were on condition as the nationalists wished. On Dr. Bethmann-Hollweg's retirement. The whole matter, therefore, is in doubt again. One positive fact elicited by Herr Erzberger's declaration is that he and other members of the main committee of the Reichstag did not in the course of attacks on the admiralty and government suggest the abandonment of the submarine campaign.

MINISTERS WILL RETIRE.

Copenhagen, July 10.—(Delayed.)—A dispatch from Berlin to the Cologne Gazette says the retirement of Ministers Heffterich and Zimmermann will be gazetted Tuesday.

The German of Berlin, declares that Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, in committee, accepted the idea of Matthias Erzberger, the centrist leader, regarding a parliamentary declaration committing Germany to peace on the basis of the chancellor's declaration of August 4, 1914—namely, no annexations. The Tagliche Rundschau, on the contrary, is sure that Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg will retire if the declaration is adopted.

According to the Tagblatt, the crown council is reported to have developed an almost irreconcilable difference of opinion between Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg and the majority of Prussian ministers on questions of internal political reform.

CROWN COUNCIL SECRET.

Amsterdam, July 11.—Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg declined yesterday to make known to the Reichstag main committee the proceedings in the session of the crown council on Monday regarding which there is much ## speculation within and without Germany. The committee then decided to adjourn. These events are described as follows in a semi-official statement issued yesterday in Berlin:

"The main committee of the Reichstag met at 9 o'clock this morning. Friedrich Ebert (socialist leader), requested the chancellor, who was present, to give information in regard to what happened in the crown council yesterday, and if what took place there was necessary for further fruitful debate. The chancellor confirming the fact that the crown council had yet to make a statement in regard to the results of the deliberations. Herr Ebert then moved adjournment of the committee, which was agreed to."

TIME OF APPLICANTS EXTENDED ONE DAY

Young Men Are Urged to Enter Second Officers' Training Camp.

Chairman E. H. Kilbourne, of the local committee of the officers' reserve corps, is being constantly urged by the central department of the training camp association to impress upon the public the need of men for the second camp which opens August 27 at Fort Benjamin Harrison. The time for applications has been extended one day, making the final day July 16. The committee is meeting at the Commercial club twice each day at 1 o'clock at noon, and at 7:30 in the evenings, and only a short time remains for the filing of applications. Ample opportunity still remains for young men who come within the conscription age to get into the second camp.

The following communication was received by Captain Kilbourne from the central department, Wednesday: "Our country is a conspicuous example of force, progress and prosperity in all fields of human endeavor. This results from the liberty of thought and action which we all enjoy."

"The constitution guarantees that have made this possible are now in danger. If these guarantees live, it will only be through America's men who bring to our military establishments the same thought, energy and leadership that have made their peaceful pursuits successful. Those who are achieving success in peaceful pursuits do so because they have within them native ability which would make them equally successful in military life. Successful men must now give their knowledge and energy to the organization and direction of military force. For successful military leadership they should be specially trained in the officers' training camps."

"Millions of young men will soon be called to arms; they have a right to be led and directed by the best men of the country, and an appeal is made to men of this type to come forward and enter themselves for the officers' training camps before July 16—the last date for filing applications."

(Signed) T. H. BARRY, "Major General U. S. Army."

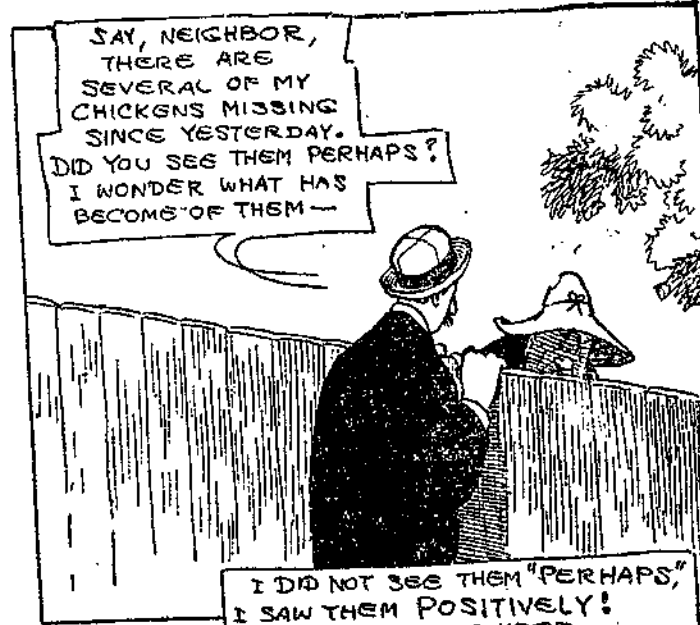

Fred McCulloch, proprietor of the Minnet Electrical Supply store, and son of Charles H. McCulloch, who retired as president of the Hamilton National bank a few months ago, has filed his application for admittance to the second officers' reserve training camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison. Mr. McCulloch is a graduate of Yale university.

MAY BE PRACTICING FOR TRENCH SERVICE

Mrs. Mary Reed, 818 East Washington street, was badly frightened Tuesday evening when a bullet crashed through the front window of her home and buried itself in the interior wall of the parlor. She called police.

The bullet is from a rifle, police state. It was fired a distance from the house. Some embryo soldiers, preparing for service "somewhere abroad" may have been shooting at a mark, in the gathering darkness, and missed his aim, is a theory.

CHECKS ON TRADING IN CORN HIT PRICES

Chicago Board Reflects Action Taken in Two Other Cities.

Chicago, July 11.—Nervousness over checks on trading in corn at St. Louis and Kansas City had a bearish effect today on corn prices here. At both cities a maximum quotation was fixed for the September delivery, and all new business in that option was forbidden. Opening figures, which ranged from 13¢ to 14¢ advance, with September at $1.57 to $1.57½, and December at $1.26 to $1.21, were followed by a material setback all around.

The close was unsettled, ¼¢ to ½¢ net higher, with September at $1.53½ to $1.53½, and May at $1.21½ to $1.21½. Wheat eased off a little in sympathy with corn. After opening unchanged at $2.02½, July and September, the market receded to $1.90 September.

The close was steady, ½¢ off to ½¢ net advance at $2.83 July, and $1.51½ September.

Despite some firmness at the outset, oats underwent a sharp fall when corn was seen to be plainly on the down grade. Provisions descended as a result of corn weakness.

WALL STREET DRAWS AN EXCELLENT DAY

Stock Market Prices Up at Opening and Score Further Gains.

New York, July 11.—Advances of the previous day were generally augmented at the outset of today's trading, all the better known issues rising from fractions to more than a point. The movement was assisted by a moderate demand from interior points, commission houses sharing in the early purchases. A sale of liberty bonds was reported at 99 and 49.50. This is the first break in the subscription price since the day the bonds were first traded in on the exchange. In every important instance initial gains were extended on an increase of operations which embraced many inactive specialties. Rails also responded to a broader inquiry. Reading, New York Central, Canadian Pacific and Great Northern leading at advances of 1 to 1½ points. United States Steel changed hands in many large lots at a gain of

The sole survivor of the Carlingford Lough disaster was the only one of the steamship Retriever's crew who could not swim.

The psalteries of David were made of cypress (II Samuel VI, 5) those of Solomon of the algar tree (II Chronicles IX, 11).

There is only one reference in the Bible to ebony. It occurs only in Ezra xxvii, 15, as one of the most important commodities imported into Tyre.

The best kind of ebony is yielded by the diospyros ebenum. This tree grows in Ceylon and southern India. There is no doubt that this wood was imported from these places by Phoenician traders.

WOULD HOLD COURT
TWO DAYS A MONTH

Prosecutor Emrick Has a
Plan to Speed Things
Along.

Prosecutor Frank A. Emrick has started a movement for the holding of circuit court two days out of each month during the summer vacation. He has never proposed an extra session during the summer season as was erroneously reported. The extra session would not answer the purpose as well as the holding of court two days out of each month, he says.

The plan has never been tried here. However, the courts were never so crowded as they are now. A third court, it is contended, could be used to advantage.

By holding court two days out of each month during the summer would do much in speeding along court procedure, in the opinion of Prosecutor Emrick and a number of attorneys who agree heartily with the plan.
